

HALF-TON MONSTER HAS ELEPHANT SKIN, NO TAIL OR SCALES

Vancouver Fishermen May Have Caught Caddy

Victoria's famous sea monster "Caddy" may have been killed over the week-end.

Canadian Press reports from Vancouver say crew members of the seine boat Nacenda arrived there Sunday "with seven feet and 1,000 pounds of something."

If it isn't a sea monster, the fishermen said, it will do until the real thing comes along.

The thing, which got itself trapped in the vessel's net near Port San Juan, on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, has neither tail nor scales and is covered with a rough elephant-like skin.

Skipper Luis Percich said one possibility is that the "monster" is a tropical fish that got out of its usual haunts by following the warm Japan current northward.

Others think it's the end of Cadborosaurus, and the end to much fun, frolic and gag publicity in many parts of the continent for Victoria.

Only recently, morning newspaper reports said Caddy had been sighted by "a lean, keen-eyed Texan from down Brownsville way" whose name was given as James Mahaffey.

He was quoted as saying he'd be back with a posse next year to capture Caddy and take him home "where he'd be appreciated."

Eager to let alleged Caddy hunter know of the Vancouver fishermen's week-end catch, the Times contacted Paul Leeper, managing editor of the Brownsville Herald.

He reports the Mahaffey posse story is a myth because

"there just ain't no sich animal as a James Mahaffey from these parts."

Editor Leeper doesn't want the Caddy story to end, though.

First he told the Times:

"Nope, I haven't been able to locate a Mr. James Mahaffey in Brownsville, Lean, keen-eyed or fat and bleary-eyed."

"There jest ain't no sech critter."

"There's an R. E. Mahaffey here, who's an engineer at Stanolind Chemical plant, but no cattleman with the monicker of James."

"I'm amazed anyone from Brownsville would go all the way to British Columbia just to look at a sea serpent."

"Just across the Rio Grande from us is the wonderful city of Matamoros, Mexico, where you can see all the monsters you're man enough to see, after a drink or two of the kickapoo juice they specialize in."

"To solve the whole problem about this feller Mahaffey, why don't you come down here for a visit? Bring Caddy. We can all sit around my favorite cantina in Matamoros and when Caddy merges with the surroundings, we've got her whipped!"

"Seriously though, I believe Caddy belongs either in Brownsville, where he'll be appreciated; or in Matamoros, where he won't be noticed."

Victoria Bargain-Hunters Go Abroad

Victorians in stores and bars throughout Port Angeles made reporter Pete Loudon and photographer Irving Strickland "feel at home" Saturday. Here from left, VMD employee Wilf

Bates, Yarrows' worker "Shorty" Laubenstein, A. J. Walls, Edmonton, and W. Neale, Victoria, cool off in bar at Lee Hotel. Quartet agree that cocktail bar is big attraction to Canadians.

Tide of City Dollars Flows to U.S. Coasters

By PETE LOUDON

Unpopular liquor laws and higher Canadian prices are combining with improved ferry service to take Victorians week-ending in the United States in ever-increasing numbers.

In this Victoria is pursuing a national trend. A National Bureau of Statistics release today confirms that Canada's international tourist account showed a deficit for the second consecutive year in 1952.

Canadians spent $336,000,000 abroad, mostly in U.S. holiday

spots, while foreign tourists in Canada spent only $275,000,000 here.

The federal government disclosure underlined observations recorded by the Times on a week-end visit to Port Angeles.

Port Angeles is a centre of 13,000 located 17 miles across the Strait of Juan de Fuca from Victoria. Seven return boat trips daily to the Washington town by two steamship lines have so far this year carried 4,710 Canadian cars and 13,902 passengers to the waiting arms of P.A. merchants.

This is 1,000 more passengers than the total for the year previous, 4,000 more than in 1951, according to Victoria Chamber of Commerce figures.

HOWDY, VICTORIAN Walking on the streets of Port Angeles on a Saturday is not unlike walking on Douglas Street for meeting Victorians.

They don't journey there for the scenery. B.C. has beaches, mountains, gardens and fine residential sections. There are plenty right here. But the below-the-line centre does have cocktail bars and lower prices.

The casual one-day visitor can enjoy the former and one need only stay 48 hours to be free to buy up to $100 worth of duty free goods in the stores.

The sea route is short (one and a half hours) and inexpensive compared to the savings a thrifty shopper can effect. Black Ball lines here estimate 500 persons traveled south from here Friday and returned Sunday night.

STILL GOING UP Included, of course, are American visitors coming and going, but there are more Canadians every month that passes. August passenger lists were up 20 per cent over June and July.

Canadian Pacific Steamship figures are comparable. Canadian customs officials estimate Victorians who spend over 48 hours in the U.S.A. bring back $35-$45 worth of purchases per person. Shoes, clothing and electrical appliances are favorite buys, with drapes, sheets and house furnishings runners-up.

One local man brings back 20 quarts of buttermilk. As Port Angeles is only 65 miles from Seattle many Canucks drive through to the bigger centre. But Port Angeles gets its share of Vancouver Island dollars.

DOLLAR AT PAR A hardware merchant told The Times that he had served 35 Canadians in an hour and a half on Saturday. He said that members of the P.A. Retail Trade Association accept Canadian money at par. Many others charge 1 per cent exchange.

Actually our dollar is still a fraction of a cent more valuable than is the American greenback.

Victorian patronage of Port Angeles bars may be indicative of drinking habits that will evolve here when cocktail bars become a reality.

Manager Cliff Arnie of the Lee Hotel, the Empress of Port Angeles, pointed to his bar, well-filled with visiting Victorians.

Big 3 Assure Italy Backing Against Tito

Yugoslavia-Trieste Crisis About Over

ROME, Italy (UP)—The Big Three western powers assured Italy today that they would regard any attempt by Yugoslavia to seize part of Trieste as a breach of the Italian peace treaty.

As a result, it appeared that the brief crisis caused by Italian fear that Marshal Tito might annex Yugoslavia's occupation zone in the free territory was over.

The diplomatic envoys of the United States, Great Britain and France gave the informal assurances to Premier Giuseppe Pella.

It was in the Italian peace treaty that Trieste was made into an international zone, with the United States and Britain occupying the northern part, Zone A, and Yugoslavia the southern part, Zone B. It was provided that the occupation should end when the territory had been set up finally. This has not been possible because of Russian obstruction.

SENT TO VENICE Before the Allied assurances were received three Italian warships had been sent to Venice, across the Adriatic Sea from Trieste, and postal officials had said letters recalling army reservists to the colors were awaiting dispatch if necessary.

The report that letters recalling army reservists are awaiting dispatch on orders of the government came from Venice.

The Italian cruiser Duca degli Abruzzi and two torpedo boats anchored in the Venice harbor Sunday night.

It has been reported from the Yugoslav side that Italy has moved troops to the vicinity of the frontier opposite Trieste.

MONTREAL (CP)—The Gazette, in a front-page story today, quotes an official of the Montreal Police as saying a general work stoppage of 11,000 municipal employees will take place within three weeks.

The Gazette says the possibility of strike action by members of unions representing policemen, firemen, transportation commission and white-collar workers rests on two decisions expected before September 15. One is by city officials and the other by an arbitration board.

The story quotes the official, who was not identified, as saying the firemen and office workers, totaling 5,200 members, are behind the policemen "100 per cent."

Polio Record Climbs WINNIPEG (CP)—Manitoba's poliomyelitis total today climbed to 1,230, but no deaths were reported during the week-end.

M' Uncle Zeke sez until B.C. changes its liquor laws you got to lose your week-ends in Port Angeles.

Mayor Harrison sez City Manager Wyatt at $12,000 a year would "bring back the bacon" I'm trying to figger that at how much the pound.

Thet may not be Caddy but he's sure got the skin for it.

ELDERLY MAN AND WIFE WALK TO DEATH IN SEA

An elderly couple walked to their deaths by drowning, in a suicide pact at Oak Bay, on the week-end.

A man and wife, visitors from Manitoba, both believed in their 70's, drowned off Cattle Point, just north of Willows Beach, after writing a will and a note.

The couple had left the note, telling of their intention, along with a will, in their car parked above the rocky shore. They had walked down to the beach, emptied their pockets of contents and left them on a log along with a pair of glasses, and walked into the water.

Police found the body of the man at the water's edge and the woman's body off shore.

3 Die in 115 Forest Fires

TORONTO (CP)—At least 115 fires raged through Northern Ontario's parched timberlands today as sweltering firefighters looked to the skies for signs of heavy rain to help them stop one of the worst outbreaks in years.

Twenty-two blazes are burning unchecked across a wide front and already have caused the deaths of two men and a boy. About 90 men were rescued by canoes and motorboats from an island in the North Bay district Sunday night as a big fire threatened to engulf two tourist camps.

The lands department said thousands of dollars of timber has been left stripped and blackened in the lush forest areas.

Eight Airmen Survive Week In Northland CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—Eight crew members of a Lancaster bomber that crashed near Churchill nine days ago probably owe their lives to the fact that they stuck by their plane and made a crash landing.

The airmen, safe in Churchill after searchers rescued them from the northern Manitoba bush Saturday, said they crashed with their plane rather than risk the dangers of bailing out and travelling in dense woods without the proper equipment.

The Lancaster, from the RCAF's No. 405 reconnaissance squadron at Greenwood, N.S., was reported missing Aug. 22, while on a routine navigation flight from Rockcliffe, Ont., to Churchill, 600 miles north of Winnipeg.

One of the injured men was FO A. R. Gossel of Granum, Alta., radio navigator, who suffered burns. He said he didn't consider them serious.

Other crew members were FO T. E. R. Stammers of Antigua, British West Indies, the captain; FO J. A. Murray, Warrington, England, co-pilot; FO W. W. Grabac, Riverbend, Que., navigator; FO W. G. Mortin, Lethbridge, Alta., radio officer; FO G. W. Duguid, Lillooet, B.C.; LAC D. H. Wentzell, Bridgeview, N.S., flight engineer and PAC F. M. Debalie, Halifax.

Finance Committee Asks Raise for City Manager

Renewal of City Manager Cecil Wyatt's contract for three to five years at a $2,000 a year increase in salary was recommended by City Council Finance committee today on a 3-1 vote.

Mr. Wyatt's present salary is $10,000 a year. His three-year contract expires Sept. 30.

Ald. Frank Mulliner moved the recommendation and Ald. Percy Scurrah seconded it. Mayor Claude Harrison was in favor but Ald. Robert Macmillan opposed the increase.

The matter will go to City Council meeting Thursday.

"The manager is doing a better job every day and he is saving us money," said Ald. Mulliner. "Halifax is paying $15,000. If we want to keep Mr. Wyatt we must pay more."

The alderman said it was understood when Mr. Wyatt first was appointed that his salary would be reviewed at the end of the first term.

OTHER LURES "He has co-ordinated matters at City Hall," said Ald. Scurrah. "We have a smooth-running machine here. I'm convinced if we're going to hold Mr. Wyatt we must pay him more. Other places would be delighted to get him at more money."

He said he understood the idea of investing money from the sale of the grain elevator and pre-debt levy funds was Mr. Wyatt's and that he had worked out the details.

"It will save the city about $315,000," said Ald. Scurrah. Ald. Macmillan objected to the increase and said if a higher salary was paid the city "should look further."

"I realize the manager's position is a very difficult one and requires a great deal of backbone," he said. "Unfortunately I'm not as convinced as you are. I definitely don't think he's worth more than $10,000 a year."

"I don't think he's a particularly strong man. I think he's been swayed in the past by some members of council—not myself."

Ald. Macmillan said his remarks were his "personal opinions" and referred in no way to Mr. Wyatt's character.

"Can you show me a commercial corporation with a $7,500,000 budget which pays its manager less than $12,000 a year?" asked Ald. Mulliner after the meeting.

MAYOR APPROVES Mayor Harrison approved the increase.

"I had to be shown," he remarked of his feelings on the city manager set-up when he took office. "I had an open mind from the start."

"It is a hard job for any man to fill. I had to find out if he could bring home the bacon and I think he has."

Ald. Scurrah said there were 175 applicants for the post. He could see no advantage to having a new man. Ald. Mulliner asked:

"Do you get a new man every time you decide to raise a salary?"

Top Management Asked to New Wicks Meeting A conference of management representatives will be held in Vancouver Saturday, September 12, Labor Minister Lyle Wicks said today.

The parley follows a round-table labor conference in Vancouver last Friday, attended by only two labor groups.

The government is calling the conferences to obtain views on needed amendments to the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

Invited to the September meet are representatives of the B.C. Division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the Industrial Association of B.C., and the B.C. Chambers of Commerce.

Mr. Wicks said no ICA Act changes are planned at the September session of the Legislature. He said it would be impossible to draft suitable amendments until a study is made of the results of the current conferences.

Homeless Doukhobors Gather In Perry's Siding Tent Town NELSON, B.C. (CP)—From a distance, the new community growing by the hour in British Columbia's Doukhobor area looks like a refugee camp in some war-torn foreign land.

Moving, as always, in mystery, more than 200 Sons of Freedom Doukhobors have gathered at a new tent town at Perry's Siding in the Slokan Valley.

The encampment is a product of violence. The only qualification for membership in the camp is that the family be among those which lost their homes in recent arson raids blamed on Doukhobor fanatics.

The community of homeless spent Sunday in prayers and about 50 of the Doukhobors stripped off their clothes. The parading was peaceful, however, and was confined to the tent town area.

By Sunday 38 tents had been pitched in the government-owned hayfield. More arrivals were expected today.

No definite statements on reasons behind the tent town have been made, although some individuals said they had banded together for their own protection and would stay leaderless.

Others called for the return from Paraguay of Stephen Sorokin, spiritual leader of the Sons of Freedom, who left Canada several months ago seeking a "promised land" for his flock.

One Doukhobor who called himself a camp spokesman said:

"Three years ago Sorokin came among our people to act as a mediator between the government and us. He promised to solve our problem. Above all we want Sorokin to return."

"We have many children, old people, cripples and sick ones. We don't know what to do next. Winter is coming."

While the man told his story of the camp, the gathered members interrupted with "We want Sorokin," "let Sorokin come" and "Sorokin can save us."

The mysterious walkout on their local leaders started Thursday when cars and trucks owned by burned-out Doukhobors were seen driving into Perry's Siding.

Most of the families came from Krestova, although there have been arrivals from Glade and the Slokan Valley.

Search Starts For Six Lost In Que. Wilds

HALIFAX, N.S. (BUP)—A Norseman aircraft carrying six persons has been missing in northern Quebec since Aug. 25 and a search for it will begin as soon as weather permits, the air force reported today.

The plane, owned by Mont Laurier Airways Ltd., of Roberval, Que., carried a crew of two and four passengers. A bush pilot was said to have been at the controls, but no names were released.

The air force said the plane was flying from Fort Chimo, south of Ungava Bay, to Nitchequon, northeast of Roberval, when it disappeared last Tuesday. Poor communications delayed notification of the disappearance until late Sunday night.

Explosion Kills Galiano Resident

Mrs. Ida Reamsbottom, North Galiano, died in hospital in Vancouver on the week-end as a result of injuries received in an explosion at her home July 18, RCMP here were informed today by Vancouver Coroner J. D. Whitbread.

An inquest will be held. According to reports, the explosion occurred while Mrs. Reamsbottom was filling a kerosene-burning refrigerator with gasoline by mistake.

She is survived by her husband, Robert Reamsbottom, North Galiano logger.

RECOUNT ADVENTURES

Eight Survive Week in Wilds

Flames, Water, Injuries Plague
Aircraft Crew in North Manitoba

By ART BRYDON

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—Eight men told the story of seven days of wilderness living on the edge of a lake in northern Manitoba after their four-engined Lancaster bomber plowed, flaming, into the shallow water.

The men were interviewed by press and radio representatives flown from Winnipeg in the same twin-engine Dakota that found them, when attracted by a helicopter mirror in the hands of FO T. A. R. Stammers, 21, of Antigua, British West Indies.

The Lancaster co-pilot, FO Joe Murray, of Warrington, England, and Missoula, Mont., said shortly after their last radio check several navigational instruments were out of commission.

"I could feel the aircraft twist. Then the pilot hit me on the leg," said Murray. "I was working the throttles but getting no response."

The tall Englishman, veteran of eight years with the RCAF, had a newly-healed wound on the bridge of his nose. He has a wife and six-month-old child at the aircraft's base, Greenwood, N.S.

Rained Heavily for First 2 Days

In the morning they freed a dinghy from the wing and rowed ashore, taking what equipment they could salvage. It rained heavily for the first two days and they were unable to keep a fire going. A tent was made from the dinghy for shelter. Later they built a teepee to relieve the crowded conditions in the tent.

They returned to the aircraft a couple of days later, using grappling hooks and rubberized suits which they rescued, fished more equipment and food from the plane.

They treated Gossel and DeBale with first-aid equipment which they obtained on their first trip to the plane. These two remained in the tent at all times.

Murray was in charge of feeding the group. When they were rescued he had enough food left, by stretching, to keep alive another 21 days.

For breakfast he served oatmeal bars in cocoa and later meat bars boiled with biscuits in a pressure cooker. "It's the only thing that will soften those biscuits," said Murray. Each day the men ate some candy rations and they picked berries in the brush. There were no fish in the lake.

Murray saw an animal at a distance and went to investigate one day, but quickly returned when he discovered it was a timber wolf. While Murray and Wentzell were tending the outlying fire, Wentzell mentioned that Saturday would be his wedding anniversary.

"Wouldn't it be funny if the plane arrived," Murray said. Saturday the weather opened up again and in the afternoon the Dakota aircraft was sighted from the camp and from Murray's fire.

Stammers first attracted it with his hand mirror and Murray followed up with smoke and red and orange flares. When the aircraft appeared, Murray and Wentzell were figuring the food allotments if they attempted to walk out. They planned to try at the end of the month.

The Dakota remained at the scene until relieved by Lancasters from farther-north search areas. An Otter aircraft equipped with floats and flown here," he said. "As a rule they drink one or two and that's it."

The bartender said that up-north visitors usually order, "what they call rye . . . and drink bourbon." Drinks average 65 cents each.

Victoria Eagles took a whole floor at the Lee last week and this week end the IOOF came to the hotel to stay while attending a joint meeting.

Picnic groups to Port Angeles are common. Thirty persons forming an Evans, Coleman & Johnson Ltd. excursion traveled there Saturday. The post office employees and the Old Age Pensioners of Victoria were recent visitors and several city golfers attended a return match at Port Angeles Golf and Country Club Sunday.

AMBITIOUS PLAN

Tour operator, Larry Winters, who drives visiting Victorians to the lower reaches of the Olympics, envisions greater attractions at Olympic National Park (near PA), a million-acre reserve. He would like to include that area with "Victoria's Butchart Gardens and the Malahat in a package deal tourist trip that would be unequalled . . . on the continent."

He foresees fewer Americans going to Victoria as the "Old English" atmosphere drifts away. "You should never have done away with the 'bobby' helmets for your police," he says.

A travel agent says that more traffic would go both ways if boat fares were less or a one-day excursion fare was introduced.

A Washington state tax makes the fare more if you are coming out of Port Angeles. A single return from Victoria is $3.60, from Port Angeles it is $4.14.

HEARING-AID OF THE WEEK

PROGRESS

In 1938, B. S. H. Tye, a graduate teacher of lip-reading, opened the Victoria Hearing-Aid Co. in this city.

At that time very few people with hearing-aids were to be seen in public. Today hearing-aids are seen almost everywhere. In 1938 learning to use an instrument was quite an undertaking as the sets were carbon type and seemed to amplify excessively the unwanted sounds. Then came vacuum-tube hearing-aids which are far more clear and natural than the carbon.

The year 1953 has seen the All-Transistor models come on the market, which have no tubes and use only one tiny self-contained battery and can be operated by the average case for about two dollars per year.

If you have a hearing problem you are invited to get in touch with Mr. Tye at the Victoria Hearing-Aids Co., 326 Yarrow Bldg., 625 Fort St., and take advantage of his experience in fitting hearing-aids. He wears one himself, and has done so for twenty-four years.

CKWX Incorporates To Broadcast TV

CKWX Television Ltd. has been incorporated as a company with authorized capital of $1,000,000, according to the provincial companies office at the Legislative Buildings.

Incorporation papers said object of the firm is "to carry on the business of television broadcasting in all its branches."

A spokesman for the Vancouver station said the incorporation is just the first step in its "hopes" to get a television license.

The station hasn't applied for a license, but owns land in Burnaby on Kingsway for eventual construction of television studios.

All Island Points Get Milk Board Control

The provincial government has approved regulations bringing all Vancouver Island under jurisdiction of the B.C. Milk Board.

For many years a large part of the Island has been "uncontrolled" in respect to milk prices.

Areas "regulated" under the new policy include Alberni, Parksville, Qualicum, Ladysmith, Cowichan Lake, Shawnigan Lake, Comox and Cobble Hill.

TORNADO IN REVERSE

8,000 Volunteers Swarm Over Rebuilding Job

FLINT, Mich. (UP)—"Operation Tornado," in which 8,000 volunteers joined in a mammoth work bee to rebuild the twisted, flattened Beecher district here, was declared an "unbelievable" success today.

"I'm completely overwhelmed by the spirit and the accomplishments of these volunteers," said M. F. Borgman, chairman of the local committee which planned the two-day project.

"The whole thing is unbelievable, more tremendous than we ever expected." The committee set an original goal of 3,000 workers to combine in rebuilding in two days the homes that were destroyed in two minutes last June 8 by a shrieking tornado which took 119 lives. An estimated 8,000 skilled and unskilled workers answered the call Saturday and Sunday, although only about 5,000 of them were on the job at one time.

One resident, whose home was swept away by the winds, said his dwelling was rebuilt so fast "It seemed as though I just held up a door frame and these people built a house around it."

Reds Reported Ready to Free 500 'Bonus' PWs

List May Include
Missing Canadians

PANMUNJOM, Korea (BUP)—Allied officers returning to freedom today said the Reds may release up to 500 "bonus" prisoners and there was immediate hope here that some of them might be the 21 Canadians still missing.

Fifty-one captured U.S. airmen went through freedom gate along with 250 other Allied prisoners, the largest number of fliers released in one day since "Operation Big Switch" began 27 days ago.

Some of the officers said the Communists may return about 500 more non-Korean men than they had listed for repatriation.

The Reds said at the start of the exchange that they held only 14 Canadian prisoners but to date they have freed 24, including 12 who had been listed as missing in action. Army records still list six Canadians as prisoners and 15 as missing but there has been no indication from the Reds that any more would be freed.

But the returnees today said there were from 1,000 to 1,200 American, British and other non-Korean prisoners awaiting repatriation in Kaesong.

TOKYO (BUP)—Eight more Canadian repatriates will arrive here Tuesday evening, en route home to Canada, a Canadian army spokesman said today.

The arrivals will boost to 24 the number of Canadian returnees to start home. They were due at Tachikawa air base at 7:10 p.m., and will take off for Vancouver, B.C., at 9:45 a.m. Thursday.

In Tokyo they will be welcomed by Brig. R. E. A. Morton, chief of the Canadian military mission. And will go on shopping and sight-seeing tours.

The eight were identified as: Lt. Stanley Badovich, Brandon, Man.

Pte. Jean Paul Dufour, Ste. Anne, Que.

Pte. Donald James Gunn, Toronto.

Pte. Barry Stephen Gushue, Sydney, N.S.

Lakes Seamen Strike Held Unjustifiable

MONTREAL (CP)—Great Lakes seamen deserve no pay increase aside from that gained by a 40-hour work week, Capt. R. Scott Misener, president and general manager of Colonial Steamships Limited, said in a statement here during the week-end.

He said the reduction from 48 to 40 hours a week would mean as much as 14.4 per cent wage increase to all unlicensed seamen.

Colonial Steamships, Canada Steamship Lines, N. M. Paterson & Sons and Upper Lakes and St. Lawrence Transportation Company face the threat of a strike of crew members, members of the Seafarers' international Union (AFL-TLC).

Capt. Misener said the four companies would accept a conciliation board report but only on condition it was also accepted by the union. He said this attitude was being taken so board findings would become an agreement and not the basis for further demands by the union.

Meanwhile, seamen are casting their ballots today in a strike vote called by the union.

Firestone Strike Settled for 5-Cent Boost

CLEVELAND (AP)—The giant Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. was rumbling back into production today after a four-day strike by 25,500 CIO United Rubber Workers ended in an agreement expected to set a pattern for the entire rubber industry.

The agreement was reached here Sunday night after almost continuous bargaining during the walkout which shut down Firestone plants in eight cities. It provides a 12-cent hourly pay raise package, including a five-cent general increase which raises the average pay of the production and maintenance workers to $2.10 hourly.

Other benefits include a $25 increase in pension payments and comprehensive company-paid hospital and surgical insurance for employees and their dependents.

11-Day Telephone Strike Is Over

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A contract agreement ending the 11-day Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. strike was reached today.

Officials said the 53,000 striking CIO communications workers were to return to work on their next regular shifts.

The contract calls for a general wage increase ranging from $1.50 to $3 a week.

HAROLD DIGGON HURT BY BLAST

Well-Known Victorian Burned,
Bruised in Cruiser Explosion

A prominent Victoria businessman and his boatman had a narrow escape from death or serious injury Saturday when their 25-foot cruiser exploded and burned at the Sooke government wharf.

Harold Diggon, owner of the craft, which was a total loss, was badly bruised when the engine cover blew off and struck him. He also sustained minor burns.

His boatman, Yubiel Wickham, escaped with minor burns. Wickham had just finished gassing the cruiser at wharf-side and Diggon was casting off the stern line. Apparently an overflow of gas had run down into the bilge below the engine, and when the engine was started the boat "blew" in a flash of flame.

Sooke fire department answered the call but could not control the blaze. The cruiser was shoved off from the wharf to prevent the fire from spreading.

Fishermen from a seiner took out a speed boat, swamped and sank the burning cruiser by circling it at high speed.

... caught by blast.

The cruiser, "Laddie," was valued at $4,000, and is partially covered by insurance.

BATON STILLED IN MID-AIR

San Francisco Symphony Director Dies at Concert

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The musical world today mourned the death of Gaetano Merola, founder-director of the San Francisco Opera Company, who collapsed while conducting an outdoor concert before thousands of listeners. He was 72.

Merola was stricken while leading the San Francisco symphony orchestra in a Sunday afternoon concert at Sigmund Stern Grove. The concert had reached its semifinale selection, the "Un Bel Di" aria from "Madame Butterfly" with Brunetta Mazzolini of Portland, Ore., as soloist.

A dazed look came into Merola's face. His baton stopped in mid-air, then he suddenly fell to the feet of his musicians.

Members of the orchestra instantly surrounded him. A physician, Dr. Henry L. Davis, came up from the audience to give first aid. They removed Merola from the stage while the audience watched in stunned silence.

A priest administered the last rites in the ambulance that carried Merola to the hospital. Merola never regained consciousness. He was dead on arrival at the hospital of what doctors said was a "probable coronary occlusion."

At Stern Grove an announcer addressed the hushed audience through the loudspeaker. "Ladies and gentlemen, the concert is over."

West Germany Grabs 3,000 Red Bullies

Planned to Wreck
Sept. 6 Election

BONN, Germany (UP)—West German police have arrested nearly 3,000 Soviet zone Communist shock troops and smashed the "invasion" of East Germans sent to wreck the forthcoming crucial parliamentary elections, Bonn government officials claimed today.

The east zone agitators, mostly riot-trained members of the free German youth, infiltrated into west Germany by train and bus during the week-end. The majority of the Reds were picked up at frontier check points. Hundreds of others who slipped through were arrested in west German cities.

STATE OF ALERT

West Germany's 100,000-man police force and 10,000 border defense troops maintained a state of alert. However, officials here insisted they had the situation under control.

Federal border police were put on an "alarm basis" after the "vanguard" of a 10,000-man Red invasion force was caught trying to sneak across east-west zonal borders under orders to provoke riots in the Ruhr and other industrial areas.

Police at Helmstedt said 1,270 east German Reds had been pulled off interzonal trains there and shipped off to an internment camp near Braunschweig. Helmstedt is the main crossing point.

Hundreds more were arrested at Hamburg, in the Ruhr and other border points. Some were expelled but most were held.

'Enterprise' Salvage Suspended After $100,000 Recovered

BRUSSELS (AP)—The Belgian representative of a London insurance adjuster firm said today salvage operations for bringing up more money from the sunken Flying Enterprise have been halted until next year because of bad weather.

Hamilton Mack, manager of the Belgian branch of Tyler & Co., told of this interruption of a project on which already has yielded about $100,000 worth of sudden U.S. and British currency.

Mack said the little Italian salvage vessel Rostro, which had recovered the money and sent it to a Brussels bank to be dried out and counted, had left Ostende, Belgium, last week for an "unknown destination" after calling off further diving operations on the sunken American freighter this year.

This conflicted with a story the Rostro's salvage crew chief, Mario Raffaelli of Genoa told reporters last week. He said he was heading his vessel back to the spot where the Flying Enterprise lay split in two under 40 fathoms, 240 feet of water in the English channel.

And the Ostende ship broker handling the unloading of the Retail drug stores in Canada had total sales of $248,000,000 in 1951, against $101,000,000 in 1951, against $101,000,000 in 1941.

W. L. SCHROEDER DISPLAYS LARGE NEW SHIPMENT OF FAIRBANKS-MORSE OIL-FIRED FURNACES

The Fairbanks-Morse Oil Furnace is more than ever in demand, according to W. L. Schroeder, agent for Fairbanks-Morse oil heating equipment at 1328 Government Street. Above is shown a section of the new shipment recently received, along with the competent staff of men who handle its sales, installation and servicing.

Mr. Bill Stothers, centre, Fairbanks-Morse sales representative, and owner W. L. Schroeder at his left, invite you to make a thorough inspection of these heating units before you come to a final decision on your particular heating system. They are pleased to give you all the time and every assistance necessary in making the proper installation for your home or place of business.

These men assure you that there is no finer installation than a high quality Fairbanks-Morse oil-fired furnace for future fuel economy and ease of maintenance. These installations are available in five high and low-boy sizes and include a large underground tank which gives you a saving on your oil by buying in bulk.

Briefly, the Fairbanks-Morse furnace offers you these striking advantages:
Complete coverage in high and low-boy sizes; nickel chrome heat exchanger with 20-year guarantee; exclusive corrugated heat exchanger design, with 30% more efficiency than conventional types; Fairbanks-Morse's own highly engineered gun-type oil burner; Lau or Brundage multi-blade air-circulating fan equipped with variable speed drive for more efficient operation; greater economy in operation and many other quality features. It is the installation to give a lifetime of heating ease, economy and satisfactory operation. Your heating problem will be thoroughly considered, and an estimate will be made on its costs without any obligation to you. It will pay you to give the Fairbanks-Morse Oil Furnace your closest study and consideration for it offers you the highest economy operation of any unit.

Full particulars are available at W. L. Schroeder, agent for Fairbanks-Morse Oil Heating Equipment, 1328 Government Street. Telephone E 2612.

Why Is India Out?

SUPERFICIALLY THE LATEST actions of the United States within the United Nations must appear baffling and inexplicable to its foreign friends. Openly voting against its closest allies, including Britain and Canada, the United States has managed to prevent the inclusion of India in the Korean peace conference. To this end it has paid a high price.

The Christian Science Monitor candidly summarizes the various items of the price thus paid as follows: "Temporary abandonment of the entire moral and propaganda basis of the Korean war; virtual diplomatic isolation of the United States; serious diminution of good will for the United States in India and elsewhere in Asia; provision of new grist for the Soviet propaganda mill; encouragement of neutralism in Europe, the Middle East and Asia; acceptance of the risk that the United States will be blamed if the Korean peace conference fails."

Why has such a price been paid to exclude India? The answer (never mentioned, of course, in public debate) is quite simple. The United States has paid blackmail to the government of South Korea because, in the American view, the alternative was much worse.

If India had been included in the Korean conference the Rhee government would have been boycotted. Worse than that, if it had broken with the United States on this issue, the Rhee government might well have smashed the present truce, plunged the Korean peninsula into war again and finally produced the great war against China which it has always desired.

The United States could not risk that danger. It considered the truce even more important, for the moment, than agreement with its allies or its own reputation in Asia.

The alternatives facing the United States in dealing with the intransigent Mr. Rhee are starkly stated by American representatives in the United Nations, as quoted by The Monitor, as follows: "If you had to face the alternative of paying the price or continuing the war—as we did—what would you have done?"

In the judgment of the United States these were the actual and the only alternatives. That judgment may be right or wrong. Mr. Rhee may have been bluffing. The blackmail may have been excessive. At all events the United States has demonstrated—contrary to the theory of many of its critics in Europe and Asia—that it is not recklessly risking a renewed war in Korea, a great war with China and possibly a world war. Instead, it is accepting public humiliation and paying Mr. Rhee's price in an attempt to preserve the chance of peace.

No one can say yet whether the price has been paid in vain for that will depend not on Mr. Rhee, nor even on the United States but mainly on the policy of Russia and China. Whether they really want a settlement in Asia, or even in Korea, will be revealed only when the peace conference gets under way this autumn.

In the meantime it is useless to deny the damage done by the United States' policy towards India—the breach in the common front of the democracies, the anger in India and elsewhere in Asia. But if Mr. Rhee had managed to provoke a new and larger war the resulting damage would certainly have been worse and might well have proved fatal.

Thus final judgment on the United States policy must await the outcome of the peace conference. At least it has been given a chance to succeed.

Can We Afford Peace?

SOME OF THE ABLEST ECONO- mists and some newspapers like The Manchester Guardian are asking whether the world can afford peace. If a settlement, or even the appearance of a settlement is reached in the affairs of Asia and armament expenditures are then cut back will this produce a recession in business?

To ask such a question is to indict the sanity of the human species. For obviously a sane species, freed of the necessity of using its materials and labor for armaments, could use them in making more goods for itself. A reduction in armaments should instantly increase the world's real wealth.

But sanity has not always been the chief ingredient of international affairs. Otherwise we would not be in our present state. It does not follow, therefore, that men would quickly or easily divert into civilian goods the energy now going into armaments.

It does follow, however, that if the production of civilian goods should exceed the current demand then demand somehow must be increased. Whatever private business or government may do to increase the demand for goods within a nation, they cannot hope to market our present production, much less an increased production, except through the channels of international trade. Of this fact the present glut of wheat and other things in the United States and Canada is a classic example. The two richest nations on earth cannot possibly consume all of their own production.

Hence if abundant international trade is necessary at present it will be all the more necessary if the world reduces its armament expenditures and has more labor and materials to use in the form of consumable goods. But whenever production has threatened to exceed demand the usual reaction of most nations has been to restrict the exchange of goods and thus worsen the problem of distribution and consumption. This kind of insanity largely caused and certainly prolonged the great depression of the thirties.

There are thus two distinct dangers in the present attempt to maintain a truce in Korea and broaden it into a general settlement in Asia.

The first is that the free world will disarm prematurely, lose the strength which alone is compelling Russia to bargain and thus give Russia by diplomacy a victory which it could not win by arms.

The second is that even a marginal and safe reduction in armament expenditure will produce an attempt to restrict world trade at the very moment when it will require expansion.

Advice From Britain

FROM THE EDITORIAL PAGES throughout the country one judges that the Canadian people are deeply disturbed by the present collapse of the two-party system. And with good reason. The disequilibrium of our Parliament, the splintered state of the opposition, is so obvious that it attracts even the interest and anxiety of our friends in Britain.

"It is hardly an exaggeration," The Manchester Guardian remarks, "to say that Canadian politics is no longer divided between two major and two minor parties but instead between one major party and three splinter groups, each representing mainly sectional attitudes and interests."

The Guardian is certainly right in believing that our Parliament needs an "effective opposition based on national rather than sectional policy. The Conservative party is not at present such an opposition but remains only a party that may become one. Canadians are too content with the present and hopeful of the future for the Liberals to be challenged from the Left. But the Conservatives show little promise of playing their proper role. The radical reconstruction of the party is now unavoidable."

It remains to be seen whether the Conservative party is capable of such reconstruction. The alternative is nothing less than its gradual or perhaps rapid disappearance as a truly national party, replaced by various splinters, one of which may finally grow into an effective opposition.

Every Canadian who believes in the two-party system will hope that the Conservative party will prove equal to this challenge. No thoughtful Liberal will deny The Guardian's opposite warning to the present government:

"Clearly this situation cannot endure, in a democracy so serious-minded and alert as Canada. The lack of effective opposition exposes the Liberals to the dangers of over-confidence, breeding in time both slackness in detail and errors in principle. They are more proof against such dangers than most parties, but even for them Monday's triumph (in the election) must present a risk of an eventual crash, followed by a disastrous reaction. It would be better for Canadian Liberalism to be faced with some countervailing power."

That power can and should come from the Conservative party if it learns from its mistakes. And its cardinal mistake, from which all others flowed, was the attempt to out-bid the government and all other parties, to offer impossible promises and to be all things to all men.

The Incubator

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

THE gardener next door likes leaning on his shovel and talking to me. This isn't lazy of him, exactly. For one thing, shovelling is hard work. For another, your really lazy man puts his shovel down and then lies down beside it. And again, talking to me is hard work too, if I don't want to be talked to. I can make weaker types stop in the middle of a sentence and go away... there are various methods of doing this... some patients respond to a cold stare, and others to laughter in the wrong place, while certain bores are indignant if you out-bore them, which can be done in countless ways, not least of which is asking them to explain obvious things in great detail.

TODAY the gardener was brooding on the fact that his life is wasted. He might have added something to Canada's production, thus helping Society, he said. Instead of which, he does nothing but humor frail and transitory flowers for the delight of a rich man. (He thinks his employer is rich. It is a matter of opinion. The employer told me the gardener will have him in the poor-house soon.)

I pointed out that every passing walker or motorist enjoys the flowers on the landward side of the garden, and every passing boat enjoys those on the seaward side. Many of the chaps in those boats are not at all rich. In fact, you can bet that any man with a boat to look after is perpetually broke. A boat takes all you've got, whatever the sum. I also pointed out that trees last quite a while. Longer than men, anyhow. And if wisely chosen, they can later enrich Canada's production. A nice black walnut, for example, might put your grandchildren quite a way through college, or their grandchildren anyhow.

BUT he was not to be comforted. He wanted to be tilling in a factory, turning out cheap boots or some other form of robbery like that. His conscience troubled him. How anyone's conscience can make him want to increase the flow of shoddy goods... well, this is one of those mysteries whispered only to gardeners by the lilies of the field, who toil not, neither do they spin. The lilies of the field feel terrible. They want to be up and doing, making chemical foods, flimsy and ugly houses, sleazy garments, mechanical entertainments, and all the rest.

ONE of the few forms of destruction I could do without is that performed by the bulldozer. It knocks down the trees, levels the lovely hummocks, carefully buries the topsoil under a mass of glacial debris, and leaves the world looking as it did to Noah on his first days ashore. But the driver of the bulldozer will explain that his work is purely constructive. Yes, indeed, far from being a wrecker, he is a builder, and all construction begins with him.

As Our Readers See It

SPCA DEFENDER

The only thing that one can respect about R. A. Brown's letter re SPCA shelter (Times Aug. 27) is that it is signed. This despicable type of innuendo letter is usually anonymous.

The writer has endeavored to trace R. A. Brown, but has been unable to trace him or her.

If Mr. Brown knows, or thinks he knows, of something wrong at the shelter, as is the obvious implication of his letter, he should openly state what it is, and it is certain the SPCA would be the first to investigate.

If he cannot, or will not do this, he should publicly apologize for his suggestion that it would be more interesting to visit the shelter when "company" was not expected. The public, including Mr. Brown, is welcome to visit the shelter at any time, and as many citizens know it is conducted with competence and courtesy only limited by its financial resources, i.e. subscriptions and donations.

The SPCA is a community service carried on under great difficulties without any subsidy, and with the help and hard work of a number of public-spirited volunteers.

The public only last week displayed its appreciation, and any attempt at sabotage, however crude, should be frowned upon by all decent citizens.

PROVOCATIVE

The impudent falsity and insult to French Canada by a letter writer in the Times who says Canada adopted the "pure English language for her own," that it is the only official one, and so on, is the familiar "provocative" technique used against the British in Egypt, South Africa, Mossadegh's Persia, also in Victoria, B.C., stirring up racial trouble against England.

The French language has frequently been quoted as superior to the English by highly educated writers best qualified to judge.

It is certainly the most musical.

VATICAN ENVOY

I would like to dispel any doubt in the minds of your readers as to my letter regarding a proposed representative to the Vatican. I would say to your "Tolerant" in Thursday's Times that I was not motivated by any "good intention"—my letter in its entirety was a statement of fact—in close relation to my principles.

There exists Christianity, Religion and Churchianity—entirely separate things, which can, of course, be inter-related. It does not follow that of necessity a Christian is a churchgoer, nor that he who attends church is a Christian. Religion, on the other hand, is the goal of any line of thought sincerely pursued.

Your "Tolerant" (?) refers to politics and religion. Does he not mean politics and denominationalism? Our ambassador to Italy, whatever his profession of faith, has his work in quite another sphere of representation. He speaks for Canada as a whole in world affairs.

'CRUELEST SPORT'

Vancouver Island has taken a backward step in permitting the staging of its first fair-scale rodeo.

"America's cruelest sport" was the apt description given to the rodeo in a recent magazine article. These modern spectacles are a travesty of old-time ranching practices. Very few horses can be counted on to fight frenziedly whenever a man mounts them. Therefore, those used in rodeos must be induced to do so.

Training of such horses has become a specialized commercial operation. By clubbing, hazing with ropes and other forms of abuse, the animals are imbued with a fear of man which will ensure their giving a satisfactory display for the paying audience. In smaller rodeos where local horses are used, similar treatment must be meted out before performances. Add to this the ruthless spurring and the pain of the tightly-drawn bucking strap or rope, and even a quiet horse can usually be counted on for a few minutes of "good fun."

Many abuses enter into other rodeo events and countless ranchers refuse to have their animals used. This difficulty is sometimes overcome by using animals destined for slaughter. "What's the difference if they are killed or injured?" asked one rodeo performer. "They're just put on ice ready to go."

Under the pseudo glamour of the "Old Wild West" thousands of animals, including young calves, are deliberately terrorized, maimed or killed in this, one of the cruelest public spectacles in the world. It is time we recognized it for what it is and acted accordingly.

HOSPITAL ACCOLADE

As a recent patient in the Royal Jubilee Hospital I wish to pay tribute to the service I received. I have often heard that institution criticized. For my part I found nurses and all attendants most kind, attentive and efficient.

I think if some of the critics of our Hospital Insurance Act were to spend a few days there it might change their opinions. I had but to look around to see how this measure lifted a financial burden from many a sufferer's head. I think there is an element of selfishness in the complaint of some people that because they are in no present need of a hospital therefore they should not be expected to pay for the benefit of those who suffer.

I would remind them that many of us who have no children pay school taxes for the public good, and surely persons who may be in need of a hospital at any time should not begrudge payment for its support. I would like to see for all who can pay compulsory payment should be exacted to the last cent. I think the dollar-a-day co-operative payment is quite justified, since it may not only keep unnecessary patients out of the hospital, but it is also less than it would cost to live at home.

I also think it was a mistake to reduce the premiums by $3.00 a year. After all 25 cents a month means little or nothing to the individual but in the aggregate it means much for the hospitals, and these Christian institutions are worthy of all support. I only wish the system could be extended to include outside patients and doctors' bills.

THANKS TO HAIG-BROWN

Thank the Lord for one man such as Haig-Brown who shows us the absurdity of not only giving rights in Buttle Lake to the B.C. Power Commission but also the timber values as well.

Not only do hunters and fishermen have to get permission to hunt on company lands now, but they have agreed to patrol them. What is our forest service and game service for? One of these days we'll wake up and find Harmac is going to charge for the extra sulphur or whatever it is in the air around it's plant.

Whether the protectors of the people's rights, the various governments, just take the easy way out and fold their hands and drowsily say go ahead and help yourselves or not, I don't know but it looks very much like it.

To give credit where credit is due, one party does seem to have thought of doing something.

'Who Changeth Not'

From Topics of The Times in The New York Times

THERE is a general tendency—and one no doubt based upon the existing weight of evidence—to bemoan the passage of many of the good things of life. Many good things have gone, and have taken with them a great many amiable professions and avocations. It is as though these trades paid their fares for the last trip of the old interurban trolley, and like the trolley itself were seen no more. Many indeed have gone, to be found now only in the studied pages of history, but it is not fair to say that all have gone. One, at least, yet remains both unspoiled and unchanged. One remains just as it was years ago, before what is acknowledged as progress changed the background of the profession, if not its spirit or its attitude.

WAVE OF THE HAND
That one is the honorable calling of the trainmen. Its members are just as they were. Its members still believe in the wave of a hand, a salute, and it well might be they are the only kindly and good people left. If in doubt, ask any child along the right-of-way.

The trains themselves have changed, no doubt of that, and constantly they edge forward toward the ideal which is the ultimate aim of progress. It may be admitted that all of these changes are for the good, all are a part of progress. But that other thing is good, too, that thing that has not changed in the slightest—that wave of the hand, a salute, by the trainmen.

HONORABLE MEN

They are honorable men, those trainmen, and if they perhaps are not the only honorable men left in this bizarre world, their integrity is at least unquestioned. Watch them as the train goes by, puffing a little with the upgrade exertion as it crosses the meadow toward the distant hill. A farmer is plowing there, and who first waves a greeting? The trainmen. Watch it as it comes around the gentle curve a fraction of a mile from the station, slowing its speed and with warning bell ringing. Children, wide-eyed, are on the top of the embankment, and who first waves? The trainmen. They wave just as they did years ago, before the steamlining and the chromium; they wave, indeed, as they did when the engine boilers were fired by the wood that preceded coal. They are honorable men, as were their fathers, and their passing salute brightens up the day alike for the child on the embankment and the farmer behind his plow. That relationship has not changed—and that is all to the good.

Song of the Wild Goose

Ottawa Citizen

Motorists who rip recklessly along the roadway or make left turns when they shouldn't are not the only city drivers who can be classed in the nuisance category. The drivers who honk horns needlessly are just as pestiferous and incidentally, they too run afoul of the Highway Traffic Act which makes it illegal to "create an unnecessary noise." Most frequent offenders are drivers in wedding motorcades who delight in leaning heavily on the horn, apparently to ensure the success of the celebration. Several of these have been arraigned in city traffic court recently.

Horn-blowers exercise their talents on other occasions as well. In a line of vehicles stopped behind a red traffic signal, they remain oblivious to the cause of the delay and honk merrily away. They do the same at railway crossings when a slow-moving freight engine puffs past trailing a large number of cars. Or they may materialize about 5 a.m. some summer morning to awaken a friend scheduled to accompany them on a fishing trip.

Quimet Promises 70% TV Coverage

Smaller centres in B.C. interior will eventually have television, J. A. Quimet, general manager of CBC, promised in Vancouver.

Quimet said a cross-country microwave network is planned as soon as larger centres of population are served.

"We expect to be serving 70 per cent of the Canadian public with television in two or three years," he declared.

"That's a higher percentage than American stations are reaching in the United States now."

Rainiers Virtually Eliminated

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Any hopes Seattle may have had of catching Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League pennant race all but faded Sunday after the Rainiers lost a double-header to seventh-place Sacramento.

The Solons stopped Seattle 12-8 and 8-1, and the new week finds the Rainiers 10 games back of Hollywood with time running out. Other clubs split their Sunday twin bills.

Hollywood bowed 5-2 to Los Angeles in 12 innings, then won 5-0; Portland went 10 innings to edge San Diego 2-1, but lost the nightcap 5-4, and San Francisco and Oakland divided 7-6 and 2-6.

SASKATOON, Sask. (BUP)—Henry Martell of Edmonton, winner of the 1953 Canadian Professional Golf Association championship, went home today after successfully defending his Saskatchewan Open golf crown.

He played a sparkling game over Saskatoon's Riverside Club layout Saturday and Sunday to turn in a 10-under-par 206 card for the three round tournament. In one sensational round, he fired a 64, to set a new record for the course by two strokes. Martell won the title last year.

Youthful pro Buddie Loftus of Moose Jaw, Sask., grabbed second place with a total score of 207.

aPt Fletcher, long-hitting pro from Saskatoon's Golf and Country Club and 1952 CPGA champion, surprised everyone by finishing well back with a card of 220. He matched the best amateur, Cliff Soberg of Saskatoon.

Largely due to its cotton and jute, Pakistan has had a favorable trade balance since its foundation.

Locals Beaten In Final

Lose Deciding Game To Vancouver Girodays

Vancouver Girodays defeated Victoria Capital City Gasmen, 7-5, in Girodays' home park Sunday night to become the B.C. men's senior softball champions.

The victory, following a weekend double-knockout elimination series between Victoria, New Westminster, Castlegar and Vancouver, advanced Girodays to the Western Canada finals, scheduled to start in Vancouver on September 6.

Prior to Sunday night's game Vancouver and Victoria were tied with one loss each, Gasmen having defeated Girodays in the afternoon.

Gasmen scored four runs in the first inning and, although out, 6-3, allowed Girodays only two runs in the bottom half of the first and went on to win the afternoon contest, 4-2, to force the final night contest.

Norm Martin went all the way on the mound to pick up the victory for Victoria.

Six pitchers paraded to the mound in the deciding game.

GASMEN RALLY

Girodays took a 4-0 lead after the first three innings, but Gasmen broke loose for four runs to tie the count in the fourth.

With two men on base Vancouver intentionally walked Ken Gunter to load the bases with two out. Gus Hilton, hitting star of the series for Victoria, doubled to score three runs and Bernie Clarkson singled to score Hilton.

Girodays scored two more in the fifth and one in the sixth for the victory.

Harry Small was credited with the win after relieving Harry Broerman in the fourth. Ab Wiebe started for Gasmen, but gave over to Gunter in the third. Gunter stayed until the fifth before being relieved by manager Joe Bryant, who in turn departed in favor of Martin in the seventh.

The evening game was witnessed by over 6,000 fans and manager Bryant stated that his team received the best fan support the club has ever had in the mainland city.

Gasmen defeated Castlegar, 2-1, in a 17-inning contest Saturday afternoon and then came back with a 7-0 shutout over New Westminster in a night game behind Wiebe's two-hit mound performance.

Gunter hurled 16 innings in the afternoon before giving over to Martin, who received credit for the victory when Chick Newman drove in the winning marker.

Gasmen lost their series opener to Girodays Friday by a 4-0 count.

Les Wilson was the unsung star of the series for Gasmen. Wilson was spiked in the leg in the first game of the series and a split finger he received earlier in Victoria opened up again, but he stayed in and gave a gritty performance, catching all series games.

Northwest Sculling Meet Proposed Here

There is an excellent chance that the 1954 North Pacific Amateur Association of Oarsmen regatta will be held at Victoria's Elk Lake.

Norm Edmonds, coach of the James Bay Rowing Club, said on his return from Penitence, where the regatta was held this weekend, that officials are desirous of holding the rowing tournament here next year if the local club wants it.

Edmonds said today that the only possible snag he could foresee would be the placing of a monitor powerboat on Elk Lake, a game preserve. He felt the

B.C.'s Doug Hepburn Captures World Title

STOCKHOLM (CP).—Giant Doug Hepburn, of Vancouver, Sunday night won the world heavyweight weight-lifting championship while twice breaking the record for the press.

The 26-year-old weight-lifter, only Canadian entry in the world championships here, lifted a total of 1,030 3/4 pounds.

Jons Takes Mat Feature From Kamaroff

Action was wild and rugged on promoter Ken Williamson's weekly four-bout wrestling card at Memorial Arena Saturday night.

Dave Jons captured the main event when awarded the third and deciding fall from Ivan Kamaroff. After each grappled had taken one fall Kamaroff pinned Jons but had one of Jons' legs tangled in the ropes. The referee then awarded Jons the bout.

Kamaroff was furious at the decision and took out after Jons, who definitely got the better of the extra entertainment. Kamaroff departed from the ring under verbal lashing from the fans.

Claire Robinson and The Ram battled to a draw in the opener and Angelo Poffo defeated Bud Ruttil in a rough match. Johnny Demchuk took the deciding fall from Danno MacDonald in the semi-main event.

Ocean Mist paid $8.40, $4.00 and $3.30; Moby Dick $3.00 and $3.00 and Irene's Angel $6.80.

The winner is owned by Phil Carstens of Spokane and Jim Seabeck of Tacoma. They paid only $700 for him as a yearling.

Fosters Nip Clubmen

Joe Fosters may be down in their bid to capture the city senior B men's softball playoff championship, but they can't be counted out.

Sunday, Fosters defeated Tillamook Athletic Club, 10-7, behind a five-hit hurling performance by right-hander Bob Lyons to extend their best-of-five series. Tillamook lead the series in games, 2-1.

Fourth game is scheduled for Heywood Avenue Park tonight at 6:30 and Fosters will again face the task of winning or dropping from contention.

GOGIE STEWART SIGNS FOR EVERTON CLUB

LONDON (Reuters)—Everton football club, a second-division team in the Football Association, has signed Gordon "Gogie" Stewart, 24, inside left from Vancouver.

Stewart has played three games this season for Everton's reserve club in the Central League.

ST. KITS EXTEND BOXLA SERIES

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP).

The St. Catharines Athletics downed Peterborough Trailermen 14-6 Saturday night in the fourth game of their Eastern Canada senior lacrosse final.

Peterborough leads the best-of-seven series 3-1.

The A's led all the way. They were ahead 3-2 after the first quarter, 8-3 at the half and 11-5 at three-quarters. Jim Bradshaw scored three goals for the locals, while John Dewar and Al Frick each got two.

Ferguson, Wells Take Net Honors

Veteran Jimmy Wells defeated Jack Dunbar, 6-4, 7-5, Saturday to win the men's singles crown in the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club handicap tennis tournament.

In a marathon match, Miss P. Ferguson won from Miss B. Woolson, 6-2, 4-6, 7-5, to win the women's singles championship Sunday.

Results of all finals follow:
MEN'S SINGLES
J. Wells (minus 20) beat J. Dunbar (minus 15), 6-4, 7-5.

Fourth Puck Entry Sought

The City Commercial Hockey League is seeking a fourth team for this season's play.

The Army team has relinquished its franchise because of a recent armed services ruling that non-service personnel could not play with service units.

Three remaining clubs are Navy, Merchants and Individual Cleaners.

Any organization wishing further information may obtain same by contacting league secretary Bill Oliver at G 4770. A limited number of army players will be available.

Cricket Side Named For Labor Day Match

BY TONY BRISTOWE

Today week, on Labor Day, Beacon Hill Park will be the scene of the second of the season's inter-city cricket matches, as Vancouver visits Victoria.

The Victoria XI will be: Bob Mainwaring (capt), Eric Gladden, Denny Hendra, Don Wilkinson (all of Albions); Ted Parkins (Oak Bay); Jim Sherratt, Peter Seale (Incogs); Doug Day, John Moss (Alcos); George Ellis (Cowichan) and Jim Richards (Five Cs).

This side differs quite substantially from the one which managed by the skin of their teeth to draw in Vancouver earlier this year.

Pete Bridges and Marty Miller, paced Fosters' nine-hit attack with one home run each, while Guy Cuest connected for a single and double to drive in four runs. Len Anderson had two of Tillamook's five hits.

Line score follows:
Fosters 201 610 420-10 9 3
Tillamook 203 600 100-7 8 3
Lyons and Medd: Elliott, Aspin (5) and Perkins, Hanson (5).

SEATTLE (AP).—Kentucky-bred Ocean Mist was dead last going down the backside in the $10,000 added Longacres Mile at Longacres track Sunday—yet he won by a length and a quarter under jockey Ray Fugate.

Fugate let the front runners belt themselves out and then came on with the big rush. Moby Dick was second and Irene's Angel third. The time was 1:36.4.

Ocean Mist paid $8.40, $4.00 and $3.30; Moby Dick $3.00 and $3.00 and Irene's Angel $6.80.

NL Sluggers Set Five New Records

Several Marks Equalled in Home Run Orgy

The slugging National League stole the thunder from the pitching-conscious American League Sunday, setting five records and tying two others with 22 circuit blows in seven games.

Brooklyn's lead in the National was cut to 10 games by Milwaukee despite a 20-4 romp over St. Louis Cardinals and New York's eight-game margin over Chicago in the American remained untouched when the Yankees divided a double-header with the White Sox.

Major league records tied:
1. Eight home runs in one game by Milwaukee. The Yankees hit eight on June 28, 1939.

NEW STANDARDS

National League records:
1. Eight homers in one game by Milwaukee. Seven teams had hit seven.

2. Twelve homers hit in double-header by Milwaukee. The Giants hit nine in a double-header in 1939.

3. Twelve home runs in two successive games by Milwaukee. Pittsburgh hit 10 in two successive games in 1925.

4. Twenty-eight home runs on the road by Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews, who rapped three Sunday to boost his season's total to 43. Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner hit 25 on the road in 1949.

5. A hundred runs scored by Stan Musial of the Cardinals for the 10th consecutive season to break his own league mark.

RECORDS TIED

National League records tied:
1. Twelve runs in the seventh inning by Brooklyn. Chicago's Cubs scored 12 runs in the seventh on May 28, 1925.

2. Five runs batted in by Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella to give him 122 for the season. Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs first set the record of 122 RBIs for a catcher in 1930.

While the 22 homers fell three short of the National League's record of 25 July 16, 1950, the circuit raised its total home run output to 1,008, only 92 short of its all-time mark set in 1950.

Spearheaded by rookie Jim Pendleton's three homers in the first game and three by Mathews in the twin bill, the Braves crushed the Pirates 19-4 and 11-5 to practically assure themselves of second place.

Other Braves' homers were hit by Johnny Logan two, Del Crandall, Joe Adcock, Sid Gordon and Jack Dittmer. Johnny O'Brien hit Pittsburgh's lone four-bagger.

Brooklyn's 19th assault on four Cardinal hurlers made it easy for Carl Erskine to register his 17th victory of the season against five defeats. Harvey Haddix, also gunning for his 17th triumph, lost his seventh for St. Louis. Musial scored his 100th run on his 20th home run of the season.

MATHEWS ONE GAME OFF RUTH'S RECORD PACE

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Mathews, Milwaukee Braves' slugging third-baseman, hit three home runs Sunday to move within one game of the pace Babe Ruth set when he established the major league record of 60.

Mathews has hit 43 in 131 games this season. The Babe had 44 through his first 131 games and in his 132nd contest hit two more.

BASEBALL'S SWAN SONG?

Tyees Open Final Week

Victoria 5-0, Lewiston 4-5
Victoria Tyees tonight open their final week's home schedule in the Western International League against Yakima Bears.

With their club fortunes and financial position at a low ebb, it won't be so much what happens to the Tyees in this final week that counts, but rather what happens to their support.

It has been intimated by team officials that the future of the club in professional baseball may hinge on the final week in this the worst season ever from an attendance viewpoint. Less than 50,000 fans had seen the Tyees at home until last week. And it would seem that unless a marked increase in the fans' willingness to support the game in future during the next six days pro baseball may no longer be a summer sport here.

Marshall Wins 21st
Meanwhile the Tyees are glad to see the last of Lewiston Bronces and especially John Marshall.

The Bronces Saturday split a double bill with the locals, Marshall tossing a four-hit shutout in the final contest for his second victory of the series, with the Bronces winning the series three games to one.

Only two Tyees reached third base off Marshall in the Bronces' 5-0 victory as the tobacco-chewing right-hander scored his 21st triumph of the season.

In the afternoon contest relief pitcher Bill Prior singled home the winning run in the 11th inning as the Tyees edged the Bronces 5-4.

Granny Gladstone, who bids fair to be the league's nominal batting champion, currently sporting a .365 mark, started the winning rally with a walk. Dwayne Helbig singled infield. Gladstone was forced at third on Chuck Davis' attempted sacrifice.

Feature of tonight's contest is expected to be the appearance of the 32-piece Royal Canadian Air Force Band from Edmonton. The band will play from 7 to 8 and also between innings.

Game time is 8.

Victoria West of the Victoria and District Football Association will hold a practice at Central Park Tuesday night at 7.

$2,400 Payoff

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP)—Bob Toski, 126-pound slugger from Northampton, Mass., won the $15,000 Insurance City open golf tournament Sunday with a sizzling 15-under-par 269 for 72 holes.

Indians Lose Chance To Regain WIL Lead

By The Canadian Press
Spokane Indians split a Western International League baseball double-header with Calgary Saturday and lost a chance to regain first place in the standings.

Indians downed Stampede 6-4 in an afternoon game at Spokane but dropped a night contest 8-7 in 11 innings.

The split left Spokane half a game back of Lewiston Bronces, who had the day off, entering the final week of the season.

The two front-runners and Salem, which still rates as a contender, have 10 games left in the campaign for the second-half championship and a spot in the post-season playoff. Salem, the first-half pennant winner, was 2 1/2 games back after splitting a twin bill Sunday.

Cherry Lifts Amateur Title

MONTREAL (CP)—Don Cherry, the crooning golfer from Wichita Falls, Tex., took the advice of his caddy on the 36th hole of the Canadian Amateur championship final Saturday and posted a one-up victory over Don Doe.

The 29-year-old American, who stroked his way through eight winning rounds of golf without exchanging a word with caddy Joe McComber, was set to use a four iron on his second shot on the 430-hole hole with the uphill green. Joe then broke a week-long silence that paid off with the title and the Earl Grey trophy.

"You'll never make it," piped up Joe. "Take your three iron." The flabbergasted Cherry, who had roared from behind a three-hole deficit at the end of the morning 18-hole round to square it at the 29th, lost it at the 34th and square it again at the 35th, obediently switched clubs.

His three-iron shot from light rough stopped dead 20 feet short of the flag and he two-putted for a par four.

And the 32-year-old Doe, the dark horse finalist in a select field of 200 from Canada, the United States and Great Britain, including the 10-man British Walker Cup team, was in a perfect spot to win, or at least halve the hole. But he went against the judgment of his caddy.

Doe's drive was down the middle with a clear shot for the green. He reached for his No. 2 iron, passing up the advice of his caddy who suggested a No. 1 iron—possibly the most difficult club to use for amateur or pro. He ended in a trap in front of the banked green and finished with a five.

It was all over, except for the prize-giving, but things really started in a Toronto night club two months ago.

Cherry, then entertaining with his crooning, was approached by a Royal Canadian Golf Association official who suggested that he compete in this 49th championship. And Cherry, who had never won a national tournament in his career, filled out his entry form.

Corkle Retains Gorge Vale Title

Jimmy Corkle Saturday won his second straight Gorge Vale Golf Club seniors' championship with a gross 86. Runner-up was H. Atkinson with 87.

Sam Thomas had low net of 66. W. Currel was runner-up with 69.

Veteran club member Arthur Buss was awarded an honorary life membership in the club. He has been a member since the club was formed in 1931.

DOMINION'S TRACK STARS TAKE PART IN CLINIC

TORONTO (BUP)—Track and field athletes from every province except Prince Edward Island began a coaching clinic today before taking part in the two-day interprovincial track and field championships this week-end.

The entrants included four from Newfoundland, eight from Nova Scotia, 12 from New Brunswick, 10 from Manitoba, 11 from Saskatchewan, nine from Alberta, 11 from British Columbia, 34 from Quebec and 65 from Ontario. The top performers in each province earned the trips in provincial championships during the summer.

Cooper Continues to Dominate Race Card

Shearing's Speedway fans were wondering today if and when Dave Cooper's monopoly over other drivers at the Cobble Hill cut-off oval will come to an end.

Saturday night "The Flying Plumber" continued his domination over local speedsters by flashing home in the stock car Class "A" main event and both the helmet dash and first heat in big car races.

Furthermore, except for motor trouble, he might have led the field home in the Class "A" main big car event, won by Vern Bruce. He was forced to take to the pits when his motor conked out while battling for first-place position.

Hank Nelson, of Nanaimo, provided fans with extra entertainment when his stock car spectacularly rolled over three times after the start of the stock "A" main. He escaped serious injury.

This Saturday night will be another combined big car-stock car meet while Monday's Labor Day show will feature stocks.

Cooper is not scheduled to show Labor Day as he is reported as traveling to Portland to compete in the 100-mile big car race in the American city.

The results follow:

Stocks:
"A" main—Cooper, Mike Newton, Dick Varley.
Helmet dash—Newton, Ray Pottinger, Bob Mavle.
First heat—Varley, Cooper, Bob Runley.
Second heat—Nelson, Phil Hendry, Bill Nelson.
Third heat—Pottinger, Ken Nelson, Newton.
Fourth heat—Bruce, Passmore, Bob Simpson, Ken Kulla.
Big cars:
"A" main—Bruce, Thomas, Simpson.
Helmet dash—Cooper, Thomas, Bruce.
First heat—Cooper, Thomas, Bruce.
Second heat—Thomas, Vern Moore.
Third heat—Simpson and Ross Clements, dead heat.

U.S. Tennis Tourney Produces No Upsets

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States National tennis championships proceeded through their second day Sunday with no upward incidents, all the seeded stars except one winning their matches with speed and dispatch.

The lone exception was Budge Patty, the pride of Los Angeles, whose seventh-seeded dignity was threatened for a time before he got Clifton Mayne, an upstart from Berkeley, Calif., off his neck. The final score was 7-9, 2-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-1.

Lorne Main of Toronto and Vancouver, Canadian Davis cupper, scored an easy second-round victory over Herbert Browne, Jr. of Columbia, S.C., 6-0, 6-3, 6-2.

Only slightly troubled was Ken Rosewall of Australia, the No. 1 foreign seeded, in winning through to the third round. The 18-year-old Aussie had a set of head-shaking before he solved the left-handed soft stuff tossed back by Henri Rochon, the veteran Canadian, and went on to win 8-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, the Wimbledon champion and chief domestic hope, polished off one of the younger crop, Jacques Grigry of Los Angeles, 6-2, 9-7, 6-1.

Esks Lose; Stamps Whip Riders

The 1953 football season opened on four more fronts Saturday in the first big grid iron week-end.

Hamilton Tiger-Cats rolled to a 14-0 victory over Ottawa Rough Riders in their Big Four opener and in the curtain-raiser of the Western Canada Conference, Winnipeg Blue Bombers beat Edmonton Eskimos 7-6 and Calgary Stampeders routed Saskatchewan Roughriders 29-17.

Playing at Toronto in 95-degree temperature, Sarnia Imperials defeated Toronto Balm Beach 30-5 in a senior Ontario Rugby Football Union encounter.

The Tiger-Cats' victory under a broiling sun gave them a first place tie with Toronto Argonauts, last year's Grey Cup winners. In the Big Four opener in Toronto last Wednesday, Argonauts beat Montreal Alouettes 11-9.

In the west the Stampeders showed the most offensive strength striking for four touchdowns in the first quarter, three of them converted for a 23-0 lead. Saskatchewan struck back for two unconverted touchdowns and a single point in the second quarter. The Stampeders tallied a converted touchdown in the third session and the Roughriders matched this in the fourth with a converted major.

took a 30-yard pass for the first major. The second came after he caught a nine-yard pass and raced 75 yards to score.

Sugarfoot Anderson bagged Calgary's third touchdown when a Glenn Dobbs' lateral went astray. Anderson picked up the ball and raced unimpeded over the goal line. A fumble by Nellie Greene of the Riders on their eighty-yard line paved the way for Calgary's fourth major, scored by John Henry Johnson on two ground plays.

Albert also passed for Calgary's other touchdown. From Calgary's 39, Albert hit Al Endris at the Saskatchewan 39 and the former St. Mary's end raced the rest of the way.

The Bombers led 1-0 at the half, but the Eskimos forged in front in the third quarter on an unconverted major and then saw it wiped out as Winnipeg came through with a converted touchdown early in the fourth session.

The Eskimos' touchdown was set up when Frank Anderson blocked a kick by Indian Jack

The Roughriders took to the air for their three touchdowns. Dobbs hurried a pass to Stan Williams, former end of Dallas Texans, for the first one. The second came when Dobbs heaved a toss to Cason, who lateralled to Williams. Frank Flinchuk, playing coach of the Roughriders, led a 64-yard passing attack for their other major, finishing it with a 17-yard pass to Mac Speedie, former end of the Cleveland Browns.

MISSED GOAL

A missed field goal by Edmonton on the last play of the game enabled Winnipeg to beat the Eskimos. Ted Tully was wide on his attempted 18-yard placement and all the Eskimos could salvage was a single point.

11 Happy Canadian PWs Welcomed at Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — Eleven Canadian prisoners-of-war who want to forget it ever happened arrived here Saturday from Tokyo, quiet and matter-of-factly about their life in Chinese camps.

Typical of the group's reaction to the first glimpse of Canada in many cruel months was the remark of Pte. Bernard Jewer of New Waterford, N.S. Outwardly laconic as he strolled away from the plane, Jewer was quick with a smiling reply when a bystander yelled, "You don't look very happy."

"Maybe I don't look it, but I sure feel it," said the little Cape Breton soldier—who lost 30 pounds, leaving him with a total weight of only 100, while a prisoner of the Reds.

A number of the men were extremely reluctant to talk about their experiences as prisoners.

The arrival was by far the largest of returning Canadian prisoners so far, and was headed by 2nd Lieut. C. G. Owen of North Vancouver, whose slim, blonde wife waited at the aircraft ramp with their two small children.

The lieutenant, who had been listed as missing until only a week ago, laughed gaily as he left the plane and gathered his family into his arms.

FOR YOUR MONEY

VICTORIA, B.C.—A young Navy couple came in the Warehouse some time ago, and "fell-in-love" with this "Modern Magic" as illustrated here. They wanted it in the lined oak. "His" mother-in-law was with them, but she didn't like it one bit. "I can't see this modern stuff," she wailed, "maybe O.K. for Hollywood, but you're not going to put THAT in the house. WHILE I LIVE THERE." We tactfully steered them away to another more conservative outfit, but they left soon after, and we wrote the whole thing off as a sad "walk-out." Next morning, bright & early, "He" came running in, and plunked down a $10 deposit on the suite they liked, and asked us to hold it for him. We didn't even raise our left eye-brow, but thanked him, and then we didn't hear from him again for at least a month. Yesterday he came in again, and "remember me, I'm the Joe who put that 10 fish on your Modern Magic... well you can send it up tomorrow, as we had a little 'magic' around our house." MOTHER HAS JUST LEFT FOR HALIFAX.

BOY AND BIKE TAKE TUMBLE FROM BLACK BALL FERRY DOCK

A 10-year-old Victoria youngster was playing as usual today after a narrow escape from drowning Saturday in the waters of the Inner Harbor, where he fell along with a bicycle.

The boy, Danny Curran, 2561 Cook Street, was watching the Chinook dock at the Black Ball wharf. He had ridden his sister's bicycle to the dock's edge to get a better look.

When his foot slipped on the edge of the pier, in went Danny along with the bicycle.

Quick work on the part of Black Ball employee Harry Tebbis got Danny out of the water almost before he could get thoroughly wet.

Mr. Tebbis shouted for a crewman aboard the Chinook, which was only a few feet away, to throw a line. Mr. Tebbis then threw the line to Danny and hauled him out. The boy was able to swim "a little," his father, Albert Curran, said. Grappling irons brought the bicycle up after the Chinook sailed.

Neither boy nor bike is the worse for wear today.

MOANS, WRINGS HER HANDS

Queen Mother Would Like To See Mey Castle Ghost

LONDON (UP) — Queen Mother Elizabeth is preparing to leave soon for her ancient Castle of Mey in time for the scheduled appearance of the ghost of the weeping green lady.

The Queen Mother bought the lonely fortress perched on the bleak Pentland Firth coast as a retreat.

She will go there from Balmoral, where she has been a guest of her daughter, Queen Elizabeth, in a few days to rest for a month before returning to London as head of the council of state during the absence of the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh on the Commonwealth tour.

The Mey ghost, so the story goes, always walks in mid-September as soon as the moon is full.

Legend says a heavy oaken door to the forbidding east tower swings open and the wraith-like form of a girl in green moans and wrings her hands as she rushes forth through the castle hall into the courtyard.

"I should like to see the lady," the Queen Mother once remarked, and she meant it. She sternly rebukes to this day anyone who scoffs at the supernatural.

Heller also announced he will ask the House of Representatives next January to authorize an investigation to determine if the book is "of a salacious and lewd nature."

The latest Kinsey report, scheduled to go on sale at $8 a copy on September 14, was reviewed extensively by newspaper and magazine critics last week.

Heller told Summerfield that he has not seen the book himself but formed his opinions from reading "extensive reports in the press."

DOUBLES QUEENS

EAST HAMPTON, N.Y., (AP) — Julie Sampson, of San Marino, Calif., and Maureen Connolly, of San Diego, Calif., captured the doubles title of the annual Madison Invitation tennis tournament Sunday by rallying to edge Mrs. Jean Rinkel and Helen Flecher, of England, 3-6, 6-1, 8-6.

Plane Lost 16 Months Found in Que.

GASPE, Que. (BUP) — A Maritime Central Airways plane, missing since March 22, 1952, was found Sunday in the Gaspe Peninsula wilderness.

Five persons were aboard the plane when she disappeared, including the pilot, co-pilot and three passengers.

A search party reported finding skeletons about the wreckage which was spotted last Thursday by a chartered plane operated by the Trans-Gaspe Airline.

The pilot of the ill-fated plane was John McClatchie of Charlottetown, P.E.I.; co-pilot was John E. Boudreau of Moncton.

The three passengers were employees of the Fraser Brace Contractors Limited and were on their way to a job site in Labrador. They were James A. Robb of Westmount, Que.; David Hebert of Rexton, Kent County, N.B., and B. A. Kaminiski, a German immigrant.

MAN BEATS UP ONTARIO BABY-SITTER

PICKERING, Ont. (BUP) — Police searched today for a man who entered a home here and viciously beat a 17-year-old baby sitter.

Elaine Frederickson, of Fairport Beach, was admitted to the Oshawa Hospital, Sunday, with a battered face and possible nose fracture.

She said she was asleep on the chesestified when she felt "hands around my throat."

The man said, "I'm robbing the house." When she screamed he beat her and kicked her and fled through a window. The girl crawled to a phone and called the police.

Miniature Cyclone Cuts Power Lines in Ont. Town

BURLINGTON, Ont. (BUP) — A miniature cyclone roared through this town Sunday night, cutting off electric power and leaving a litter of felled trees and poles in its wake.

Police described the storm as "fierce." They called for reinforcements from provincial police and nearby Hamilton to prevent looting.

The blow struck at 10.30 p.m., severing power lines and cutting off the town's electricity supply. One large tree toppled in front of the firehall, blocking the fire trucks inside.

Constable Tom Peer said when he saw the black storm

"... I'm sold on Monarch's effort-saving power features!"

"It seems to me an engineer should know what he's talking about when it comes to sizing up a car. So, the other day when I was talking building plans with George MacDonald I told him I was in the market for a new car and asked him what he thought. He said he drove a Monarch—because he recognized really fine engineering when he saw it. Well, that's how I come to be driving a Monarch now. At a little extra cost I was able to get power steering, power brakes, power seat and automatic transmission. And believe me, I'm sold on Monarch's effort-saving power features! And the power you get from Monarch's V-8 engine you have to feel for yourself before you can believe how smooth and lively it is. Of course, this is the best looking car I've ever driven—but I don't need to tell you that. The admiring glances it gets from everyone who sees it tell that story better than any words."

This could be your experience, too :: why not see your Monarch dealer today?

POWERED all through for effortless driving

POWER STEERING***

Monarch's power steering is today's concept of finger-tip driving ease. In busy traffic or on the open road the wheel responds to a touch of the hand... yet you never lose that "driving feel" that signifies perfect control.

Little Lummi Island Hill Spoils TV Reception Here

A 1,500-foot height of land is all that stands between Victoria and good television reception from Bellingham, according to

E. F. Harper, chief engineer of KVOS-TV.

The small hill is on Lummi Island, which lies between the station's transmitter and Victoria.

The Bellingham station recently began operation on its full power of 30,000 watts, but little improvement was noticed here. An aerial survey by station technicians on the west side of Lummi showed that the island is causing a shadowing effect.

Meanwhile up-island points are getting good reception from KVOS, the closest TV station to Vancouver Island. Program is being changed so that there will be daily broadcasting from 5 p.m. to midnight.

Free Food Stall Patrons Set Record Run of Year

Eighty-five needy Victoria families were assisted at the Free Food Stall Saturday. Operator of the surplus centre, Mrs. Barbara Green, said it was the best day this year.

Donors had provided the stall with a $20 gift which went for beef liver, bacon and cold meat; others gave two cases of bananas, 15 dozen eggs, powdered milk, 15 crates of corn, three sacks onions, three sacks potatoes, 15 boxes apples, five crates cucumbers. *Also on hand were quantities of cabbage, celery, cauliflower, cantaloupes, watermelon, grapes, marrow, plums, carrots, beets, green beans and much fruit.

The surplus centre was also provided with a number of bird cages to house a flock of budgies donated earlier.

Mrs. Green announced today that she has volunteers who will give their time and energy to canning if anyone has perishables to donate before next stall day, September 12. Any goods offered will be picked up if the donor will phone Mrs. Green at G 3720.

Oak Bay and North Victoria Kiwanis took charge of picking up fruit and vegetables Saturday, while 35 volunteers, including Girl Guides and young boys, also turned out to help.

Persons wanting assistance should not attend the centre too early, Mrs. Green warns, as goods must be sorted and distribution time is limited to the period from 2 to 4 p.m.

ARCHBISHOP ADVOCATES RED CHINA'S ADMISSION TO UN

LONDON (Reuters)—The Archbishop of York, Most Rev. Cyril Garbett, called Sunday for Communist China's admission to the United Nations and for "high-level personal contact" with Russia.

In his monthly letter to the York diocese, Dr. Garbett wrote: "The sooner the government which represents the vast majority of the Chinese people is admitted to membership of the United Nations, the more hope there will be of a permanent settlement, though it is very difficult to admit a state as long as, by the persecution of religion, it denies a fundamental right."

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

It is possibly too late to have an influence on the 1954 model automobiles, but My Favorite Wife has a revolutionary idea in automotive design which, if followed, could make a fortune for some enterprising manufacturer.

To give you the full impact of her thinking, I publish herewith a transcript of a conversation (if you can call it that) which took place at our house yesterday.

My Favorite Wife: I wish we had a car.
Me: Why?
MFW: Because I don't like riding a bus.
Me: Why don't you like riding a bus?
MFW: Because it's never there.
Me: Never where?
MFW: Where I happen to be when I want a bus.
Me: (Slightly confused.) You mean, we should buy a bus of our own?
MFW: (Scornfully.) I don't want a bus. If I had a bus, I would only be able to park it in bus stops, and that might not be where I wanted to shop. After all, who wants to shop for a bus?

Me: Yes, dear. But we can't afford a car.
MFW: Why not? We wouldn't need much money. Maybe $150.

Me: One-fifty? Why, $150 wouldn't make the down-payment on the optional equipment on a modern car.
MFW: Who wants a late model car?

Me: Don't you?
MFW: Of course not. I want an old car—about 1935.
Me: Why?

MFW: Because old cars had running boards.
Me: Running boards?
MFW: Don't you remember? Running boards were the best features of the old car.

Me: Why?
MFW: How can a lady get into one of these shiny, new, running-boardless monsters without falling flat on her face?

There is no running board for a lady to place one foot on... so... she hoists her skirt, takes a deep breath... and throws one foot right onto the floor of the car. Then what happens? While she's balancing on one foot, she has to suspend the rest of herself while she pulls in her right foot.

You know, most ladies have a right foot, but the car manufacturers seem to have forgotten this fact.
Me: (Helpfully.) Would it be better if women didn't have right feet?

MFW: Why should we not have right feet, just to please the car manufacturers? After all, women were invented before automobiles, and are entitled to have right feet.

Me: But it costs less to take a bus.
MFW: Take a bus where?

Me: Glub.
There was more of the above, but you no doubt have the idea by now.

Will some far-sighted genius please hurry up and invent the running board?

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Robert Milliken, business agent for Teamsters' Union, Local 885 (TLC), said today that in an agreement signed with Victoria Retail Lumber Yard Ltd. the company assumes all costs of the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service premiums for its employees.

Thieves who broke into a service station on the top of the Four-Mile Hill, Island Highway, on the weekend, found cash "pickings" slim. They netted exactly 69 cents in pennies. Nothing else was taken, RCMP reported. Entry to the station was gained by removing a pane of glass in a rear window to enable release of the window catch.

A meeting of the Victoria local council of the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. in the lower boardroom of the Naval Veterans' Branch, Canadian Legion. It was announced today by W. Hole, secretary-treasurer.

A Victoria man, Sgt. Ken E. King, 28, has been transferred overseas, RCAF officials announce. He will be with the No. 2 Fighter Wing based at Gros Teignin, France, where he will be employed in the photo section.

Sgt. King attended St. Louis College here. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. King, live on Dunlevy Street. His wife and daughter also live here.

The post service announces there will be no letter carrier service on Labor Day, Sept. 7. Wicket service will be available from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and the lock box lobby will be open until 6 p.m. Special delivery service and receipt and dispatch of mails will be as usual.

Terms of new shipyard contracts will be discussed at a meeting Sept. 8 of Machinists, Fitters and Helpers' Union, Local 3 (CCL), at 715 Johnson Street, business agent J. A. Cornthwaite said today.

The meeting, to start at 7:30 p.m., will be the first for the general membership since May.

Clothing worth $50 was stolen from the trunk of a car owned by Sidney Child, Haro Road, while it was parked in the 300 block of Michigan Street last night, city police reported.

Victoria's Fall Assize Court will begin its sittings this year on Monday, Oct. 5. Sheriff Eric Wilkinson posted notice at the Court House today that he will carry out the duty of "drafting a competent number of good and lawful persons" to make up the jury panel on Sept. 8.

Request for a federal investigation into gas and oil prices by Victoria Trades and Labor Council was endorsed today by city council's finance committee.

A request for provincial government consideration for the establishment of a fuel board was also considered.

Second Impaired Driving Charge Brings Jail Term

One motorist received a jail term and another a fine when both pleaded guilty in local police courts today to charges of driving cars while their ability was impaired by alcohol.

John B. Grant, Suite 6, of 2914 Douglas, was sentenced to 15 days in jail by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court.

It was his second conviction for this offense and the law allows no alternative fine. City police said Grant's car side-swiped another on Gorge Road

LIFE-SAVING GEAR HELD COAST NEED

Exploring Party in Sea Rescue

In this sixth article of a series, Times Reporter Humphrey Davy tells of his exploration of a West Coast road route on Vancouver Island. He traveled with Queen's Scout West Humphrey of Victoria, here to tell about the wreck of a fisherman's craft, and how coast residents complain of a lack of life-saving equipment.

BY HUMPHREY DAVY

Three times the aircraft circled low over Carmanah lighthouse.

"I wonder what he's up to?" said West. "He's either going to land or is trying to tell us something."

It was mid-morning. Only an hour ago we had hiked to Carmanah. We were chatting with lighthouse keeper Gerry Welard, his wife, and Jack Sykes, a government wireless operator, about the need for a West Coast road. Then the aircraft suddenly made its appearance.

We had a feeling that something was going to happen. It wasn't long in coming. A short-wave radio announced that a fisherman was wrecked about a half mile from the lighthouse.

We knew now what the aircraft was trying to tell us.

The word "shipwreck" sent a chill down my spine. In the last two days on our journey from Port Renfrew, I had become acquainted with the treacherous nature of this coast. Men and ships have little chance of survival here.

In a few moments we were all running down a steep trail leading to the beach. We scrambled over rocks and boulders, turned a point and came across a dazed and haggard-looking fisherman.

His name was Vernon Martel of Neay Bay. Only luck saved him from drowning.

WEDGED IN ROCKS

The fishing boat, the Dixie Ray, lay in a small bay about 100 yards from shore, securely wedged between rocks. If the boat had drifted a little to the right or left, she would have smashed against jagged teeth and gone down in 15 feet of water.

Martel looked in pretty poor shape. "My engine failed last night," he said. "Then I began to drift. I could hear the breakers getting nearer and nearer, but I couldn't see a thing due to fog. Then my boat struck bottom and I was flung out into the sea. Luckily it was shallow."

The tide was running out and the boat now stood in about two feet of water. This enabled us to climb aboard to see what damage had been done. There was only a small hole in the side and we thought she stood a good chance of being refloated.

Then a U.S. Coast Guard vessel hove to and some of the crew came ashore to give assistance. In case things went wrong, we decided to take ashore as much of the ship's gear as we could carry. So we waded back and forth with pieces of equipment.

Once, when the tide was fairly high, West slipped in three feet of water while carrying a heavy piece of equipment. He disappeared from view but emerged still holding his burden.

Our battle to save the fishing boat lasted all day. It poured with rain and we were all drenched to the skin. The Coast Guard vessel tried to pull the boat off the rocks with the aid of a hawser. It snapped and the fate of the Dixie Ray was sealed.

It is a sad thing to watch a boat being smashed to pieces by the sea.

We stood on the beach and watched the Pacific rollers pound the vessel against the rocks. Each time the sea struck the boat would rise and shudder from bow to stern. The impact caused the fishing gear on her lines to jangle. She rolled over on her side.

The wreck of this vessel brings up an important and frequently posed question: Are there adequate life-saving facilities on the West Coast?

The answer is no, according to the inhabitants.

The people feel that life-saving equipment, such as inhalators and stretchers, should be kept at certain key centres which could be picked up by rescue crews in an emergency.

At Port Renfrew, for instance, we were told that the lives of two seamen washed up on a beach two years ago might have been saved if an inhalator had been available.

But the most important complaint concerned the maintenance of the West Coast trail between Jordan River and Port Renfrew until a road is built along that coast. This trail was abandoned two years ago.

The trail is the only way a rescue crew could reach the scene of a shipwreck. It is a dangerous area and a major disaster is not an impossibility. Regardless of radar and modern aids to navigation, ships still go down and lives are lost.

Allan MacLeod, CNAV Clifton, HMC Dockyard, was treated at Jubilee for abrasions to the head when the car in which he was a passenger collided with a power pole at Bay and Blackwood at 10:30 p.m. Sunday.

Police said the car was driven by Douglas H. Hilton, 1755 Helen Road. After striking the pole the car ploughed the lawn of the home of Arnold Anderson, 2500 Blackwood.

RCMP reported an eight-car pile-up on the Four-Mile Hill of the Island Highway at 7 p.m. Sunday which disrupted traffic. They said only one car had to be towed away.

Youth Paced at 70 MPH Pays Stiff Penalty

A young motorist who was paced by a city policeman at 70 m.p.h. on Johnson Street late Saturday night got a stiff penalty from Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today.

In addition to receiving a $75 fine, William L. Kirby, 19, of 259 Beechwood, had his driver's license suspended for six months by Magistrate H. C. Hall. He pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving.

According to reports, logs were being yarded, but when a "hangup" occurred the engineer received no signal to stop. As a result, strain on the line continued until it snapped, apparently at a splice.

It was a flying end that struck Lang, hitting him in the neck, hand and side.

The two witnesses sought are the camp signalman and rigger. Lang is survived by relatives in Medicine Hat, Alta.

Deputy Coroner P. E. Lewis has charge of the inquest.

Gasoline Thefts Left Forestry Trucks Immobile

Frederick Robert Woodruff and Mike Huneau, both 21, of Glen Lake, each was sentenced to six months in jail by Magistrate A. I. Thomas in RCMP court at Colwood Saturday.

There was no option of fines with the sentences.

They pleaded guilty to charges of syphoning gasoline from B.C. Forestry Department trucks and from vehicles owned by Bill Lock, Glen Lake.

Five charges were read against Huneau and three against Woodruff.

Court was told that the syphoning of gasoline from the forestry trucks made them immobile and unable to operate should an emergency arise.

Car Seized After Customs 'Jumped'

RCMP reported today they had caught the driver of an English station wagon who had "jumped" customs men at the Black Ball Ferry wharf Sunday night.

Police said a middle-aged man had drawn out of line and zoomed past the custom men.

The car has been seized by police until the whole matter is cleared up.

Police said there was little likelihood of court action arising from the incident.

Cornish-built craft is 57 years old.

Arrived Victoria 8:30 p.m., Aug. 29, yacht "Moonraker," from Honolulu.

Dr. and Mrs. Peter Pye, who with Christopher Pritchard-Barrett make up the whole crew of the tiny Moonraker, take their arrivals and departures just as casually as that bald log entry.

When they tied up at Fishermen's Wharf here on Saturday, their "yachting costume" featured old and comfortable bedroom slippers. They were as matter-of-fact as though they'd just taken a spin around the harbor. But they were 30 days and 2,500 miles from their last port.

Moonraker is one of the smallest ocean-going ships ever to call here. Only 29 feet in length, she was originally a Cornish fishing boat—in the days before engines were used for fishing. She is 57 years old, but carries her years lightly.

Dr. Pye described their trip from Hawaii as "very comfortable on the whole." He discounted two gales encountered as they neared the coast, which forced them to heave-to for over 36 hours, but enlarged on the calm and adverse tides which plagued them as they came up Juan de Fuca Strait.

Snapped Power Pole Darkens Wide Areas

Four Injured On Week-End

The naval establishments at HMC Dockyard and HMCS Naden were without power from 4 a.m. Sunday until linesmen repaired high tension connections two hours later. The area from Colwood to Jordan River also was blacked out.

Power failure was due to a car's collision with a power pole.

Rudy Vowles, Sooke P.O., drove into the pole near Colwood, snapped it off and carried it 50 feet. His only injury was a broken tooth. His unidentified passenger was not hurt.

The car is considered a total wreck.

Police report four persons injured in week-end traffic mishaps.

Still in Royal Jubilee Hospital, but in good condition, are:

William T. J. Mason, 1270 Feltham, has a broken shoulder, wrist and ankle.

Patricia Purdy, 1854 Holland, severed muscles and nerves in the right arm and hand.

HIT ROCK PILE

Saanich police said Mason was driving a motorcycle that went out of control at midnight Saturday on Cordova Bay Road and crashed into a pile of rocks.

Miss Purdy was in a car driven by Courtney Creasey, 3149 Shelbourne, that went off the road and turned over at Blenkinsop and Mount Douglas Cross Road at 12:40 a.m. Sunday. Saanich police said. About $700 damage was done to the car.

Truck, Driver Survive Tumble

Although G. W. Ledingham's truck that toppled into large water main ditch on Boleskine Road Saturday appeared helpless, it was wheeled away undamaged by driver Alan Knight, 1028 Mason Street, also "undamaged," minutes after above picture was taken by Times photographer, Bill Halkett. Truck, loaded with earth to fill ditch, came to grief when bank collapsed.

Island Coach Drivers Win Back-Dated Raise

Office Employees Get Boost In Simultaneous Negotiation

Negotiations that dragged out over 10 months have been concluded with the signing of an agreement between Vancouver Island Coach Lines and its drivers and office employees.

The lengthy negotiations began in October, and were concluded last week, according to Robert Smeal, international representative of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and OTW (CCL).

About 120 employees will benefit by the new contract, which grants drivers a 7½-cent hourly increase to a new wage of $1.58½, and gives office employees a $3 weekly raise. Both will work a 40-hour week.

Chief snag in the negotiations, which delayed the agreement for several months, was the problem of retroactive pay. It was finally decided to date the increase back to Dec. 1, 1952.

The new agreement will expire May 31, 1954.

Mr. Smeal said today an agreement has been signed between the union and C&C Transportation Co. Ltd. that gives bus drivers a 9-cent hourly increase to a total of $1.60 per hour, and taxi drivers an increase of 20 cents per hour for limousine work.

Parking Lot Planned

A. R. Roberts wrote the city today for permission to operate a parking lot on his property at the southeast corner of Blanshard and Caledonia.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—When was the post of Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain established? F.G.M.

A.—It was created by the Government of Canada in 1886. At first the proposal did not meet with the approval of the British government, but correspondence ensued and the London government withdrew its objections.

Q.—What is the coldest temperature for all Canada, for the Northwest Territories and for the Yukon? W.G.T.

A.—For the Yukon, 81 below zero at the Snag airport, about 156 miles from Whitehorse, Feb. 3, 1941. The official thermometer was calibrated only to -60 and had to be sent to Toronto to be measured so the temperature could be accurately reported. That -81 also is the lowest for the North American continent. Coldest spot in the N.W. Territories was -79 at Fort Good Hope, in the Mackenzie Valley south of Aklavik. Temperatures on the mainland sink lower than in the islands off Canada's Arctic coast.

Hand-Crocheted Gloves Have Fancy Trim, Look Smart

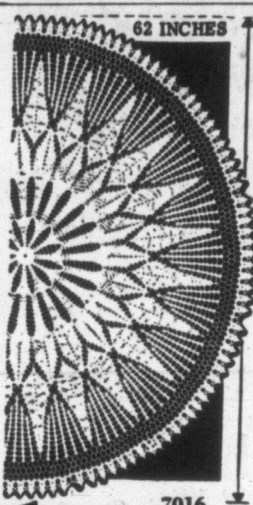

By PENNY SAVER

It's the little details that determine whether or not you are one of those creatures known as a "well-groomed woman." Things like neatly-kept fingernails, tasteful selection of small items such as a piece of jewelry or a pair of gloves, can make a world of difference to your appearance. A pair of gloves, for example, can make a simple after-five dress look as though it came from Fifth Avenue! I'm thinking now of a wrist-length pair I spotted yesterday. They are hand-crocheted in a lacey pattern from popular white cotton and are edged with a row of rhinestones. Now just imagine such a pair worn with a plain black dress... like the effect? Thought you would. Now if you also wear a pair of the rhinestone-trimmed nylons I mentioned Saturday, you're all set!

You should be making use of your crocheted gloves while the weather is still mild. Try a pair of ecru ones over your brown or tan-colored outfits. Some of the ecru gloves are trimmed with gold metallic thread for evening wear... they look especially smart if you have a gold necklet or brooch to offset an otherwise plain ensemble.

You may have the gloves crocheted to order. If you can't see what you want displayed, tell the sales girl. She'll take your order and have a pair made to your requirements. In the colors you prefer. Price is only $2.98 so you can't lose. If you are interested, give me a call. I'll be glad to tell you where to get them.

Many stores are extensively displaying school books and supplies, now, and although I hate to bring up the subject of book-learning, I think I am doing you a favor by suggesting that you get your school supplies before the big rush. I couldn't help noticing some plastic book bags for 59 cents. They'd be handy for wet weather. There's an identification card set in the corner of each one to prevent loss. Also for 59 cents are plastic loose-leaf covers. These are becoming more popular each year with high school students.

Couple United Saturday In Double-Ring Ceremony

A double-ring ceremony took place Saturday evening in First Baptist Church, when Angeline Ann D'Alleva, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D'Alleva, Namas, Alta., became the bride of Jack Wrixon Rossiter, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rossiter, 3155 Wascana Street. The service was performed in the candlelit, gladiolus-decked church by Rev. G. R. Easter and organ selections were played by Robert Kroeger.

Coming up the aisle on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. Robert Stevenson, the bride was charming in a ballerina-length gown with fitted bodice of fine lace and skirt of pleated nylon net draped with lace. She wore a matching lace bolero jacket, with Peter Pan collar and lily-point sleeves, and a coronet of orange blossoms held her fingertip veil, which was embroidered with lilies of the valley.

Her jewelry was the groom's gift of a rhinestone brooch and earrings, and she carried a crescent bouquet of red roses, gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. R. J. Stevenson was matron of honor for her sister, wearing a strapless, ballerina-length gown of pink net over taffeta with matching net stole. Her headpiece and bouquet were of pink and mauve gladioli.

The groom's brother, Mr. Eric Rossiter, was best man, and ushers were Mr. Bill McLaren and Mr. Mike Pretty.

The home of the groom's parents was the scene of the reception, at which Mr. C. Brown proposed the toast to the bride. Vases of carnations flanked the three-tier wedding cake, which was topped with two miniature doves holding wedding rings.

Mrs. D'Alleva, who came from Namas for her daughter's wedding, wore a blue-grey crepe dress with white and grey accessories, while Mrs. Rossiter chose blue crepe with pink and navy accessories. Both had corsages of pink rosebuds.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. Thomas of Ladysmith and Mr. and Mrs. W. Pready of Vancouver.

After a honeymoon in California, the couple will reside at 112 Millstream Road, Langford. The bride chose as her traveling costume a grey suit with pleated skirt, pink and navy accessories, and a corsage of Johanna Hill roses.

AS WE LIVE

In-Laws Keep Daughter From Widowed Mother

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

When a daughter goes to live with her in-laws, how can her mother see her if the in-laws don't want her to? That is the heartbreaking problem of the mother who wrote the following letter. She writes:

(Q) "I am a widow, all alone in the world. Four years ago my daughter married a boy of 19. I offered to let them live with me but he wanted to live with his mother. The mother thinks my girl is not good enough for her son and treats her abominably. My girl is working and looks very run down and pale, as she has low blood pressure. They won't let her come to see me and I can't go there to see her. When I call her on the phone, he puts her up to saying dreadful things to me. He even put her up to writing me a letter to say that she was out of her home now and wanted nothing more to do with her family. She told me she loved him so much she would do anything for him. What can I do to get her to visit me weekly or at all?"

(A) There is absolutely nothing you can do to force your daughter to visit you, write to you, telephone you, or have you visit her in her in-laws' home. She is a grown woman and is free to make her decisions.

The whole situation is, of course, heartbreaking to you. But it's her affair. If, after four years of marriage to such a man and of living under the same roof with people who feel she is not good enough for him, she can still love him so much that she would do anything he wanted her to, you have no choice but to let her live her life as she wishes.

If you try to interfere you will make no headway and will only hurt yourself. You have had enough insults and enough of her lack of love and gratitude. Why lay yourself open to more? She has made her bed. Now let her lie in it.

If you have a personal problem, write Elizabeth Hurlock in care of this newspaper.

TODAY'S RECIPE

APRICOT FILLED COOKIES
Filling—Two cups drained cooked dried apricots, 1½ cups granulated sugar, few grains salt.
Dough—¾ cup butter or margarine, 2 cups granulated sugar, 3 eggs, 2 teaspoons vanilla extract, 4 cups sifted all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda.

Filling—Beat apricots to a pulp. Add sugar and salt and boil about 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Dough: Cream butter and sugar together thoroughly. Beat in eggs and vanilla.

Sift flour with salt and soda, and blend into creamed mixture. Roll dough to ¼-inch thickness on floured board. Cut with cookie cutters into 2½-inch rounds; cut small hole in centres of half the rounds. Lay remaining rounds on ungreased cookie sheet about 2 inches apart. Top with filling, spreading nearly to edges. Cover with top rounds and press edges together. Bake in hot oven (400 degree F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 4 dozen medium-sized cookies.

MUSTARD DRESSING
Here's a dependable, delicious mustard pickle dressing to add after the vegetables are prepared: Mix 1 cup flour, 6 tablespoons dry mustard, 1 tablespoon turmeric. Add enough vinegar to make a smooth paste. Add 2 cups sugar and more vinegar (2 quarts in all) and boil until thick and smooth.

When buying carpeting, notice the density of the pile. A deep pile that feels soft and springy underfoot promises long life.

Colorful Fete Commences Season Of Theatre Guild

Girls in colorful costumes, ranging from gypsy to medieval woman, served refreshments at the theatrical garden party staged by the Victoria Theatre Guild, Saturday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Somerville-Allen, Cedar Hill Road. The girls, all members of the organization, were Mrs. Fran Howarth and Misses Teddy Murray, Pamela Birley, Patricia Anstie, Bea Sutton, Mary Jessop and Tanis Monteith.

Introduced by the president, Percy E. George, Miss Kathleen Agnew officially opened the affair, and later, with Mrs. George, poured tea. Entertainment was provided by pupils of Adeline Duncan who were accompanied by young pipe, Jamie Troy. Miss Seymour told fortunes and bingo was played. Two gate prizes of gold memberships were awarded during the afternoon. Recorded music was amplified from the gaily-decorated veranda.

General convenor of the party was Bruce Banyard who headed a committee consisting of Mrs. Claire Robinson, Mrs. Dorothy Whyte, Miss Monteith and Jörn H. Winther. Mrs. Vera Wade was in charge of tea arrangements. First activity of the season for the Theatre Guild, the affair was initiation of a campaign for members and was well attended.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES ELECT NEW PRESIDENT

Mrs. J. W. Adams of Ethelton, Sask., has been elected president of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada at closing sessions of the 18th biennial conference. She succeeds Mrs. Hugh Summers of Fonthill, Ont.

Only woman member of a six-member royal commission appointed by the Saskatchewan government to study agriculture and rural life, Mrs. Adams heads several working committees, including those on education, recreation, health and the rural home.

Resolutions passed by the FWIC Thursday included an amendment of the Election Act to include all delegates attending national or international conventions on the list of persons permitted an advance poll, and also appointment of more women to the Senate.

Tall Baskets of Pale Gladioli Adorn Colwood Church for Wedding

St. John's Church, Colwood, was decorated with baskets of pastel gladioli for the wedding, Saturday evening, of Audrey Lillian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Locke, Sooke Road, Langford, to Gordon Allan McFarlane, Colwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. McFarlane, No. 8, Willington Place, Saskatoon, Sask. Smaller vases of the same blooms were placed on the altar. Rev. H. J. Jones officiated and organist was J. Plamman. During the signing of the register, Del Rogers sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Honor Fellow Member

Members of Royal Roads Chapter, IOOE, recently spent an enjoyable evening at the home of Mrs. Max Zabel, 2528 Cavendish Avenue, when the guest of honor was their fellow member, Mrs. W. Rogers. Mrs. Rogers is to make her future home in Fort Nelson, B.C., and a highlight of the evening was the presentation of a gift to her on behalf of the chapter, by the regent, Mrs. J. C. F. Blowey.

Designer Jane Derby looks for a strong revival of purple for suits, dresses and coats this winter. "Pressed flower" colors in the Derby collection range from faded lilac to faded violet.

Smooth Figuring for Teen Ageds — Back to School!

Sweater bras are the important figure aid for you... with rounded, not pointed shaping. Especially in need of advice, is the junior who is heavy. Many are wearing bras which are too tight and too high in order to reduce their size.

The softly padded brassieres are a boon to the small busted girl who envies her more richly endowed sisters. Garter belts, also recommended for the teen-ager, will eliminate untidy, sagging stockings in school. Special attention is given to teen-agers in our shop, and you will find all types of garments to take care of back-to-school requirements. Lovely materials—satin, nylon, power net, eyelid embroidery... in well-shaped garments for the teen-age figure, along with a full line of garments for mother may be found at Irene Carroll's Corset Shop, 803 Fort Street, E 4743.

of seed pearls and rhinestones foamed a full-length veil edged with Chantilly lace. Her only jewelry was a pair of pearl earrings and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

Bridesmaids, Miss Pat Hall and Doreen Lock were gowned alike in iridescent taffeta in yellow and turquoise, respectively. The gowns featured full skirts, strapless bodices and tiny lace jackets. They carried round bouquets of gladioli, Miss Hall's in mauve and Miss Lock's in peach. Ken Sutherland was best man and ushers were Jim Doyle and Earl Taylor.

A three-tier wedding cake decorated with cherubs centred the bride's table at the reception held at the Olde English Inn. Fred Willway proposed the toast to the bride.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. A. McFarlane, Saskatoon; Mrs. S. Watts, Stevenson; Mr. and Mrs. J. Doyle, Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lock, Chemalunus.

World Voyager To Drop Anchor In Victoria

After looking over the ports of the world during five years of cruising in his 33-foot yawl, Dr. John Evans, retired British army doctor, has decided Vancouver Island is the place for him.

At present in Vancouver, he will sail his Stortebeker III to Victoria, and lay it up for the winter.

Dr. Evans has sailed his small yacht from England to New Zealand and from New Zealand to Canada, going where his fancy pleased him with no set itinerary. If he liked a port or its people he stayed there until he felt like moving on.

His Norwegian crew member, Frank Jensen, has been with him throughout the journey.

Dr. Evans plans a brief visit to England in December. He'll travel by rail and steamer, leaving Stortebeker III to "rest" in Victoria.

'Lost' Airman Found in U.K.

LONDON (UP)—A British airman whose disappearance in the Suez Canal Zone caused serious Anglo-Egyptian friction last month is "alive and well" in England, it was announced early Sunday.

The air ministry said no details of LAC Anthony V. Ridgen's disappearance and reappearance will be made public until the ministry has completed thorough investigation.

British troops set up road blocks around the canal following Ridgen's disappearance and searched every Egyptian vehicle entering or leaving the strategic zone.

The "blockade" remained in force for two weeks. It was lifted after Egypt's National Guidance Minister Salah Salem denounced it as an "affront to Egyptian sovereignty."

Airman Falls Out of Plane

TOKYO (AP)—The Far East Air Force said Sunday Airman Kenneth D. Larkin of Aurora, Ill., fell from the bomb bay of a B-29 and was lost in the East China Sea.

The announcement said that Larkin entered the Superfort's bomb bay without a parachute, contrary to regulations. The plane was on a training mission.

Larkin, a central fire control gunner, had entered the bomb bay to assist the bombardier in re-latching bay door safety catches which had come open.

He was standing on the catwalk in the bay when he slipped and fell against the doors, the air force said. The weight of his body broke the locks, forcing the doors slightly open.

It was believed that air pressure then pulled the airman through the opening, the air force said.

Immediate Repair Work Required on Westminster Abbey

LONDON (Reuters)—Parts of Westminster Abbey may have to be closed to the public unless immediate repairs are made to the stones of the centuries-old building.

Archdeacon Dr. Adam Fox, treasurer of the abbey, made a special plea to the women of Britain to aid the £1,000,000 ($2,800,000) appeal launched by Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill last January.

Dr. Fox said that only $840,000 has been raised and the abbey is still in "grave danger."

"Much of the more serious damage is in the higher parts of the building," he said. "Here the stone is rotting and crumbling away. Many of the pinnacles which lent the exterior such grace and height are rapidly becoming unsafe."

The "Save the Abbey" appeal was launched January 30, but was given second place when the disastrous floods hit Britain early in February. It was later eclipsed by the Coronation, but is now being revived.

DEADLY WAR WEAPON FOUND ON U.K. BEACH

LOWESTOFF, Eng. (AP)—Residents of this North Sea resort city were warned today not to smash bottles filled with a yellowish liquid found on or near the beach.

Police said the bottles contain phosphorous which bursts into flames when exposed to the air. Some children found a dozen bottles recently but did not break them.

The bottles were issued early in the Second World War as an anti-invasion weapon. It is believed they were buried in a box which rotted away.

KINSEY SAYS:

Sex Laws Differ Widely

SAN DIEGO, Cal. (BUP)—State laws governing sex offenses differ so greatly in the United States that an act which is not a crime in one state would put a man in prison for life in another, Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey said.

The University of Indiana biology professor, whose name has come to identify sex research, addressed a meeting of the Western Probation and Parole Conference here on his field of study.

Kinsey said that many sex laws have been passed in order to protect customs instead of being adopted to protect persons or property. He said laws make almost every type of sexual activity illegal with the exception of the marital relationship.

"The average male reaches the peak of his capacity at the age of 16 or 17," Kinsey said, "but he does not marry until he is 23. There is no legal way for him to obtain outlets."

Kinsey said his staff had taken case histories of 1,400 convicted sex offenders. He said a large percentage of these had been convicted for doing acts which are common with the majority of persons.

Drug Store Fountain Reported on Way Out

OTTAWA (CP)—Drug store fountains appear to have had their heyday in Canada. The bureau of statistics reported today there were less than half as many drug stores with soda fountains in 1951 as there were in 1941.

Shorter Week for Mc & Mc Workers

A new contract granting a 40-hour week with no cut in take-home pay, and an additional $20 monthly across the board has been reached between McLennan McFeely & Prior Ltd. and Teamsters' Union Local 885 (TLC).

Robert Milliken, union business agent, said today about 80 employees in all branches of the business here are affected by the contract.

The contract also grants employees two weeks' vacation with pay after one year of service, and three weeks after 15 years, plus 10 days' annual sick leave.

The Victoria situation differs from the remainder of the "Mc & Mc" organization in B.C. in that the majority of employees in the large mainland stores are represented by the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union Local 535 (CIO).

Second Woman Breaks Through Sound Barrier

PARIS (UP)—Pretty Jacqueline Auriol, 36-year-old daughter-in-law of the president of France, Saturday became the second woman flier to break the sound barrier when she dived her French Mystere II jet fighter at 687.5 miles an hour.

Twin sonic "bangs" echoed over the French flight test centre at Breigny near Paris when Mrs. Auriol hurtled the jet into an almost vertical dive from 18,000 feet.

The feat matched that of American Jacqueline Cochran, who borrowed a Canadian Sabre jet and became the first woman in history to break the sound barrier earlier this year.

Sweden's shipyards now have an annual capacity of 400,000 gross tons, compared with 50,000 in 1920.

'Hot Flashes' Stopped or strikingly relieved in tests by doctors!

You may be suffering needlessly from "hot flashes" and irritable, restless feelings of "change of life"! In doctor's tests, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Tablets brought relief from such functionally-caused suffering in literally case after case. Complete or striking relief!

Try modern-acting Pinkham Tablets. Both Pinkham's Compound and Tablets are modern in action! But, thousands of women are changing to new, improved Tablets (with added iron). They're easy to carry and take... and give grand relief. Get a bottle today. Get relief from those distressing, nervous, "hot of sorts" feelings of "change of life" (splendid, too, for functional pain of monthly menstrual periods).

It acts through a woman's sympathetic nervous system to relieve distress of those awful "hot flashes"!

CCF to Fight Move To End Rent Control

VANCOUVER.—CCF leader Arnold Webster says his party will fight against the campaign of Social Credit MLA George Moxham to end rent controls.

"Any move to lift what is left of rent controls would place tenants at the mercy of owners," said the CCF provincial party leader.

Moxham said in Vancouver Thursday that he would open his anti-rent-control campaign when the fall session meets September 15.

UNEASY ARMISTICE

May Be More Korea Fighting—Boss

VANCOUVER (CP)—A suggestion that fighting yet may be resumed in Korea was made Saturday by CP Correspondent Bill Boss, who arrived here from Korea.

Boss, red-bearded reporter who has been with the Canadian forces in Korea almost three years, returned with the 11 Canadian army prisoners exchanged by the Communists at Panmunjom a week ago Saturday.

"The armistice does not necessarily mean a peace for Korea," he told reporters who questioned him on arrival.

"President Syngman Rhee is as determined on the unification of Korea today as he has been at any point during the last two years. And he has given the world clear notice that if he is not satisfied that progress is being made to that end within 90 days of the opening of the political conference he will walk out and, if necessary, 'Go it alone'."

TRUE TO WORK

"The old man has been true to his word all along. I therefore would not be surprised to see him resume hostilities around the 27th of January if things don't suit him. That date is 180 days after the armistice signing, and 90 after the date by which the political conference is supposed to begin."

"People are inclined to dismiss the South Koreans' ability to 'Go it alone.' Actually, I believe they have enough supplies to wage one knock-down-drag-out battle; a do-or-die effort which in perhaps 24 hours would determine whether Korea will be Communist or pro-Western. If the conference, further, has succeeded in negotiating the withdrawal of all foreign troops I don't think there is any doubt that the ROKs could defeat the North Korean army."

UNIFIED OPINION

Rhee, said the 36-year-old reporter, has a unified public opinion behind him and both army and people would fight on if he gave the word.

Scuttled 135 Years Ago, U.S. Scorpion Brought to Surface

PENETANGUISHENE, Ont. (BUP)—Police took to boats here Sunday to direct traffic as the U.S. gunboat Scorpion was raised 135 years after she was scuttled.

Salvage operations were organized by Wilfred Jury of the University of Western Ontario as part of his campaign to restore the history of the area.

The ship was built at Erie before Napoleon lost the battle of Waterloo. Finished just in time for the battle of 1812, she carried a British crew of 32.

The Scorpion and a sister ship were sunk after a treaty was signed between the U.S. and Britain limiting the number of each country could sail on the Great Lakes.

They Need No Magic Appearing Act

Annual picnic of the Canadian fraternity, Victoria Circle, was held at Sandy Beach, near Nanaimo, B.C., Sunday. Twenty-five members, including members, and friends, were present.

Large-scale vanishing act performed by the children, who caused a multitude of food to disappear.

Member Ernie Crockford supplied the entertainment with a magic act. Loren Maddon supervised the children's games, while Jack Williams was in charge of arranging the picnic.

FINDS FORMULA

"It needs experience and sound judgment to tell the quality of a cloth and the dyes it will take," says textile dyer Edward Laycock of Ann St., Prescott, Ont. "I use the same sort of sound judgment in choosing Canada Dry for refreshment," says Ted. "From experience I know that Canada Dry has the perfect flavor and sparkle to perk me up and give me real, long-lasting refreshment." Cool Canada Dry is world famous for its very special flavor—enjoy a bottle today.

CHIPPAWA INDIANS REJECT VOTE, DRINKING PRIVILEGES

FORT FRANCES, Ont. (BUP)—Indians of the Chippawa Tribe told Ontario Welfare Minister W. A. Goodfellow Sunday that they wanted neither voting nor drinking privileges.

Spokesman Tom Favell said two tribal chiefs claimed "we aren't sufficiently educated" to vote properly and that "liquor only leads to the degradation of the Indian."

Favell, who said he represented Chiefs J. McInnes and A. Medicine of the Manitou Reservation near Emo, Ont., said "Indians have worn the veneer of civilization for only 300 years, and the use of liquor reverts them to savages."

$27,000 Hospital Grant to N. Vancouver

OTTAWA (BUP)—A federal grant of $27,000 towards the cost of a 22-bed addition to the North Vancouver General Hospital was announced today by Health Minister Paul Martin.

The addition, to be completed next year, will be used by the pediatric and radiology departments of the hospital. The federal government paid $8,600 towards an earlier extension.

London Bowing to Modern Traffic Control

LONDON (Reuters)—The age of the automobile has made a new onslaught on the city of London.

The city fathers have ordered another 59' of the narrow, lazy streets into the "no parking" category from 9 a.m. to 6.30 p.m. That makes 296 streets in all, or 40 unparkable miles. The news is not welcome to most Londoners. They don't like their traffic regulated. Motorists over here are used to just pulling up anywhere they like and parking for as long as they wish.

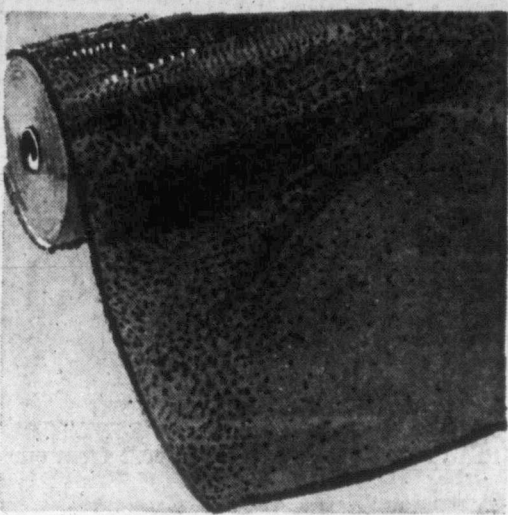

If they feel like it, they just ramble over to the other side of the street and park. They make U-turns almost anywhere they like. They would not think of going round the block to come out on the right side of the street.

The tall, friendly policemen don't seem to mind. It's live and let live. Motorists are supposed to be careful and sensible, and the few restrictions the better.

Largest freshwater lake in the British Isles, Lough Neagh in Northern Ireland covers 153 square miles.

HALF-TON MONSTER HAS ELEPHANT SKIN, NO TAIL OR SCALES

Vancouver Fisherman May Have Caught Caddy

Victoria's famous sea monster "Caddy" may have been killed over the week-end.

Canadian Press reports from Vancouver say crew members of the seine boat Nacada arrived there Sunday "with seven feet and 1,000 pounds of something."

If it isn't a sea monster, the fishermen said, it will do until the real thing comes along.

The thing, which got itself trapped in the vessel's net near Port San Juan, on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, has neither tail nor scales and is covered with a rough elephant-like skin.

Skipper Luis Perich said one possibility is that the "monster" is a tropical fish that got out of its usual haunts by following the warm Japan current northward.

Others think it's the end of Cadborosaurus . . . and the end to much fun, frolic and gag publicity in many parts of the continent for Victoria.

Only recently, morning newspaper reports said Caddy had been sighted by "a lean, keen-eyed Texan from down Brownsville way" whose name was given as James Mahaffey.

He was quoted as saying he'd be back with a posse next year to capture Caddy and take him home "where he'd be appreciated."

Eager to let alleged Caddy-hunter know of the Vancouver fishermen's week-end catch, the Times contacted Paul Leeper, managing editor of the Brownsville Herald.

He reports the Mahaffey posse story is a myth because

"there just ain't no sich animal as a James Mahaffey from these parts."

Editor Leeper doesn't want the Caddy story to end, though.

First he told the Times:

"Nope, I haven't been able to locate a Mr. James Mahaffey in Brownsville, Lean, keen-eyed or fat and bleary-eyed."

"There jest ain't no sich critter."

"There's an R. E. Mahaffey here, who's an engineer at Stanolind Chemical plant, but no cattleman with the monicker of James."

"I'm amazed anyone from Brownsville would go all the way to British Columbia just to look at a sea serpent."

"Just across the Rio Grande from us is the wonderful city of Matamoros, Mexico, where you can see all the monsters you're man enough to see, after a drink or two of the kickapoo juice they specialize in."

"To solve the whole problem about this feller Mahaffey, why don't you come down here for a visit? Bring Caddy. We can all sit around my favorite cantina in Matamoros and when Caddy merges with the surroundings, we've got her whipped!"

"Seriously though, I believe Caddy belongs either in Brownsville, where he'll be appreciated;

"Or in Matamoros, where he won't be noticed."

Tide of City Dollars Flows to U.S. Coasters

Unpopular liquor laws and higher Canadian prices are combining with improved ferry service to take Victorians week-ending in the United States in ever-increasing numbers.

In this Victoria is pursuing a national trend. A National Bureau of Statistics release today confirms that Canada's international tourist account showed a deficit for the second consecutive year in 1952.

Canadians spent $336,000,000 abroad, mostly in U.S. holiday

spots, while foreign tourists in Canada spent only $275,000,000 here.

The federal government disclosure underlined observations recorded by the Times on a week-end visit to Port Angeles.

Port Angeles is a centre of 13,000 located 17 miles across the Strait of Juan de Fuca from Victoria. Seven return boat trips daily to the Washington town by two steamship lines have so far this year carried 4,710 Canadian cars and 13,902 passengers to the waiting arms of P.A. merchants.

This is 1,000 more passengers than the total for the year previous, 4,000 more than in 1951, according to Victoria Chamber of Commerce figures.

HOWDY, VICTORIAN

Walking on the streets of Port Angeles on a Saturday is not unlike walking on Douglas Street for meeting Victorians.

They don't journey there for the scenery. B.C. has beaches, mountains, gardens and fine residential sections. There are plenty right here. But the below-the-line centre does have cocktail bars and lower prices.

The casual one-day visitor can enjoy the former and one need only stay 48 hours to be free to buy up to $100 worth of duty free goods in the stores.

The sea route is short (one and a half hours) and inexpensive compared to the savings a thrifty shopper can effect.

Black Ball lines here estimate 500 persons traveled south from here Friday and returned Sunday night.

STILL GOING UP

Included, of course, are American visitors coming and going, but there are more Canadians every month that passes. August passenger lists were up 20 per cent over June and July.

Canadian Pacific Steamship figures are comparable.

Canadian customs officials estimate Victorians who spend over 48 hours in the U.S.A. bring back $35-$45 worth of purchases per person. Shoes, clothing and electrical appliances are favorite buys, with drapes, sheets and house furnishings runners-up.

One local man brings back 20 quarts of buttermilk.

As Port Angeles is only 65 miles from Seattle many Canucks drive through to the bigger centre. But Port Angeles gets its share of Vancouver Island dollars.

DOLLAR AT PAR

A hardware merchant told The Times that he had served 35 Canadians in an hour and a half on Saturday. He said that members of the P.A. Retail Trade Association accept Canadian money at par. Many others charge 1 per cent exchange.

Actually our dollar is still a fraction of a cent more valuable than is the American greenback.

Victorian patronage of Port Angeles bars may be indicative of drinking habits that will evolve here when cocktail bars become a reality.

Manager Cliff Arnie of the Lee Hotel, the Empress of Port Angeles, pointed to his bar, well-filled with visiting Victorians.

Big 3 Assure Italy Backing Against Tito

Yugoslavia-Trieste Crisis About Over

ROME, Italy (UP)—The Big Three western powers assured Italy today that they would regard any attempt by Yugoslavia to seize part of Trieste as a breach of the Italian peace treaty.

As a result, it appeared that the brief crisis caused by Italian fear that Marshal Tito might annex Yugoslavia's occupation zone in the free territory was over.

The diplomatic envoys of the United States, Great Britain and France gave the informal assurances to Premier Giuseppe Pella.

It was in the Italian peace treaty that Trieste was made into an international zone, with the United States and Britain occupying the northern part, Zone A, and Yugoslavia the southern part, Zone B. It was provided that the occupation should end when the territory had been set up finally. This has not been possible because of Russian obstruction.

SENT TO VENICE

Before the Allied assurances were received three Italian warships had been sent to Venice, across the Adriatic Sea from Trieste, and postal officials had said letters recalling army reservists to the colors were awaiting dispatch if necessary.

The report that letters recalling army reservists are awaiting dispatch on orders of the government came from Venice.

The Italian cruiser Dura Degli Abruzzi and two torpedo boats anchored in the Venice harbor Sunday night.

It has been reported from the Yugoslav side that Italy has moved troops to the vicinity of the frontier opposite Trieste.

OF MOOSE AND MEN

Trainbells, Decibels Cast Love Spells

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—

Talking shop before the Vancouver Board of Trade today, Canadian National President Donald Gordon described the highly detailed rules governing horns on diesel engines.

He said he was "charmed" with this extract, which he described as "gobble-de-gook":

"The devices should be capable of propagating sound waves covering the overall frequencies between 200 and 650 cycles per second. No two devices of a group should emit frequencies closer than 20 per cent of each other and at least one of the devices comprising the group should cover the frequencies between 400 and 600 cycles per second. The combined sound level should not be less than 105 decibels on the periphery of a circle 100 feet in radius."

Speaking of the liability of railroads, Gordon said:

"Generally speaking our liability is extensive and to quote my illustrious predecessor, Sir Henry Thornton, 'There is nothing that improves the value of a row so much as to cross it with a CNR locomotive.'"

"I might add," Gordon said, "that we have had reports from some animal lovers to the effect that during the mating season the bull moose has mistaken the sound of the diesel klaxon for the vocal response of an amorous cow moose—with results that have been disastrous to the male animal. Small wonder when the poor creature had to adjust itself to a combined sound level not less than 105 decibels on the periphery of a circle 100 feet in radius!"

ELDERLY MAN AND WIFE WALK TO DEATH IN SEA

An elderly couple walked to their deaths by drowning, in a suicide pact at Oak Bay, on the week-end.

A man and wife, visitors from Manitoba, both believed in their 70's, drowned off Cattle Point, just north of Willows Beach, after writing a will and a note.

The couple had left the note, telling of their intention, along with a will, in their car parked above the rocky shore. They had walked down to the beach, emptied their pockets of contents and left them on a log along with a pair of glasses, and walked into the water.

Police found the body of the man at the water's edge and the woman's off shore.

EASTERN CANADA SWELTERS

3 Die in 115 Forest Fires

TORONTO (CP)—At least 115 fires raged through Northern Ontario's parched timberlands today as sweltering firefighters looked to the skies for signs of heavy rain to help them stop one of the worst outbreaks in years.

Twenty-two blazes are burning unchecked across a wide front and already have caused the deaths of two men and a boy. About 90 men were rescued by canoes and motorboats from an island in the North Bay district Sunday night as a big fire threatened to engulf two tourist camps.

The lands department said thousands of dollars of timber has been left stripped and blackened in the lush forest areas.

BY BRITISH UNITED PRESS Sweltering eastern Canada looked in vain today for rain and cooler weather as the year's worst heat wave entered its second week.

Temperatures in Quebec, Ontario and portions of the prairies continued unusually high, led by readings in the mid-90's in Ontario, and 405 persons were treated for heat prostration at the Canadian National Exhibition Saturday.

The mercury slipped a degree or two from week-end highs, but the slight relief went unnoticed by everyone except the weatherman.

There was a chance that cooler weather might move from Michigan into lower Ontario in a day or two, and cooler air from northern Quebec was showing signs of moving down in the lower St. Lawrence regions. But the forecast for today remained: "Hotter than usual for this time of year."

Possible thundershowers were forecast for the Montreal and Ottawa regions.

It was 95 in Toronto Saturday and 97 Sunday. Montreal's temperatures during the week-end crowded 90.

COOLER IN WEST It was cooler in the west Sunday, with high of 70 at Vancouver, 69 at Edmonton and 75 at Saskatoon, Regina and Winnipeg. It was 88, however, at Rivers, Man., and Winnipeg's temperature today was expected to reach a high of 85. Showers, with temperatures of between 65 and 75, were forecast for Alberta and Saskatchewan points.

Sunday's temperatures in the Maritimes included 91 at Fredericton, N.B., 88 at Liverpool, N.S., and 79 at Yarmouth, N.S. Some relief was expected in that area tonight.

Weatherman forecast more 95 plus heat for the eastern two-thirds of the United States today and Tuesday, and only mild relief Tuesday night, to be followed by 90 degrees weather for several days.

Finance Committee Asks Raise for City Manager

Renewal of City Manager Cecil Wyatt's contract for three to five years at a $2,000 a year increase in salary was recommended by City Council's finance committee today on a 3-1 vote.

Mr. Wyatt's present salary is $10,000 a year. His three-year contract expires Sept. 30.

Ald. Frank Mulliner moved the recommendation and Ald. Percy Scurreh seconded it. Mayor Claude Harrison was in favor but Ald. Robert Macmillan opposed the increase.

The matter will go to City Council meeting Thursday.

"The manager is doing a better job every day and he is saving us money," said Ald. Mulliner. "Halifax is paying $15,000. If we want to keep Mr. Wyatt we must pay more."

The alderman said it was understood when Mr. Wyatt first was appointed that his salary would be reviewed at the end of the first term.

OTHER LURES

"He has co-ordinated matters at City Hall," said Ald. Scurreh. "We have a smooth-running machine here. I'm convinced if we're going to hold Mr. Wyatt we must pay him more. Other places would be delighted to get him at more money."

He said he understood the idea of investing money from the sale of the grain elevator and pre-debt levy funds was Mr. Wyatt's and that he had worked out the details.

"It will save the city about $515,000," said Ald. Scurreh.

Ald. Macmillan objected to the increase and said if a higher salary was paid the city "should look further."

"I realize the manager's position is a very difficult one and requires a great deal of backbone," he said. "Unfortunately I'm not as convinced as you are. I definitely don't think he's worth more than $10,000 a year."

"I don't think he's a particularly strong man. I think he's been swayed in the past by some members of council—not myself."

Ald. Mulliner disagreed.

Ald. Macmillan said his remarks were his "personal opinions" and referred in no way to Mr. Wyatt's character.

"Can you show me a commercial corporation with a $7,500,000 budget which pays its manager less than $12,000 a year?" asked Ald. Mulliner after the meeting.

MAYOR APPROVES

Mayor Harrison approved the increase.

"I had to be shown," he remarked of his feelings on the city manager set-up when he took office. "I had an open mind from the start."

"It is a hard job for any man to fill. I had to find out if he could bring home the bacon and I think he has."

"Ald. Scurreh said there were 175 applicants for the post. He could see no advantage to having a new man. Ald. Mulliner asked:

"Do you get a new man every time you decide to raise a salary?"

Top Management Asked to New Wicks Meeting

A conference of management representatives will be held in Vancouver Saturday, September 12, Labor Minister Lyle Wicks said today.

The parley follows a round-table labor conference in Vancouver last Friday, attended by only two labor groups.

The government is calling the conferences to obtain views on needed amendments to the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

Invited to the September meet are representatives of the B.C. Division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the Industrial Association of B.C., and the B.C. Chambers of Commerce.

Mr. Wicks said no ICA Act changes are planned at the September session of the Legislature. He said it would be impossible to draft suitable amendments until a study is made of the results of the current conferences.

Homeless Doukhobors Gather In Perry's Siding Tent Town

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—From a distance, the few community growing by the hour in British Columbia's Doukhobor area looks like a refugee camp in some war-torn foreign land.

Moving, as always, in mystery, more than 200 Sons of Freedom Doukhobors have gathered at a new tent town at Perry's Siding in the Slokan Valley.

The encampment is a product of violence. The only qualification for membership in the camp is that the family be among those which lost their homes in recent arson raids blamed on Doukhobor fanatics.

The community of homeless spent Sunday in prayers and about 50 of the Doukhobors stripped off their clothes. The parading was peaceful, however, and was confined to the tent town area.

By Sunday 38 tents had been pitched in the government-owned hayfield. More arrivals were expected today.

No definite statements on reasons behind the tent town have been made, although some individuals said they had banded together for their own protection and would stay leaderless.

Others called for the return from Paraguay of Stephen Sorokin, spiritual leader of the Sons of Freedom, who left Canada several months ago seeking a "promised land" for his flock.

One Doukhobor who called himself a camp spokesman said:

"Three years ago Sorokin came among our people to act

Yugoslavia-Trieste
Crisis About Over

ROME, Italy (UP)—The Big Three western powers assured Italy today that they would regard any attempt by Yugoslavia to seize part of Trieste as a breach of the Italian peace treaty.

As a result, it appeared that the brief crisis caused by Italian fear that Marshal Tito might annex Yugoslavia's occupation zone in the free territory was over.

The diplomatic envoys of the United States, Great Britain and France gave the informal assurances to Premier Giuseppe Pella.

It was in the Italian peace treaty that Trieste was made into an international zone, with the United States and Britain occupying the northern part, Zone A, and Yugoslavia the southern part, Zone B. It was provided that the occupation should end when the territory had been set up finally. This has not been possible because of Russian obstruction.

Before the Allied assurances were received three Italian warships had been sent to Venice, across the Adriatic Sea from Trieste, and postal officials had said letters recalling army recruits to the colors were awaiting dispatch if necessary.

The report that letters recalling army reservists are awaiting dispatch on orders of the government came from Venice.

The Italian cruiser Duca Degli Abruzzi and two torpedo boats anchored in the Venice harbor Sunday night.

It has been reported from the Yugoslav side that Italy has moved troops to the vicinity of the frontier opposite Trieste.

Victoria Bargain-Hunters Go Abroad

Victorians in stores and bars throughout Port Angeles made reporter Pete Loudon and photographer Irving Strickland "feel at home" Saturday. Here from left, VMD employee Wilf

Bates, Yarrows' worker "Shorty" Laubenstein, A. J. Walls, Edmonton, and W. Neale, Victoria, cool off in bar at Lee Hotel. Quartet agree that cocktail bar is big attraction to Canadians.

B.C. Liquor Laws, High Prices Send Shoppers to Port Angeles

By PETE LOUDON

Unpopular liquor laws and higher Canadian prices are combining with improved ferry service to take Victorians weekend in the United States in ever-increasing numbers.

In this Victoria is pursuing a national trend. A National Bureau of Statistics release today confirms that Canada's international tourist account showed a deficit for the second consecutive year in 1952.

Canadians spent $336,000,000 abroad, mostly in U.S. holiday spots, while foreign tourists in Canada spent only $275,000,000 here.

The federal government disclosure underlined observations recorded by the Times on a not unlike walking on Douglas Street for meeting Victorians.

Port Angeles is a centre of 13,000 located 17 miles across the Strait of Juan de Fuca from Victoria. Seven return boat trips daily to the Washington town by two steamship lines have so far this year carried 4,710 Canadian cars and 13,902 passengers to the waiting arms of P.A. merchants.

This is 1,000 more passengers than the total for the year previous, 4,000 more than in 1951, according to Victoria Chamber of Commerce figures.

Walking on the streets of Port Angeles on a Saturday is

STILL GOING UP

Included, of course, are American visitors coming and going, but there are more Canadians every month that passes. August passenger lists were up 20 per cent over June and July.

Canadian Pacific Steamship figures are comparable. Canadian customs officials estimate Victorians who spend over 48 hours in the U.S.A. bring back $35-$45 worth of purchases per person. Shoes, clothing and electrical appliances are favorite buys, with drapes, sheets and house furnishings runners-up.

One local man brings back 20 quarts of butter milk. As Port Angeles is only 65 miles from Seattle many Canadians drive through to the bigger centre. But Port Angeles gets its share of Vancouver Island dollars.

DOLLAR AT PAR

A hardware merchant told The Times that he had served 35 Canadians in an hour and a half on Saturday. He said that members of the P.A. Retail Trade Association accept Canadian money at par. Many others charge 1 per cent exchange. Actually our dollar is still a fraction of a cent more valuable than is the American greenback.

Victorian patronage of Port Angeles bars may be indicative of drinking habits that will evolve here when cocktail bars become a reality.

Manager Cliff Arnie of the Lee Hotel, the Empress of Port Angeles, pointed to his bar, well-filled with visiting Victorians.

Vancouver Fishermen Make Strange Catch

Victoria's famous sea monster "Caddy" may have been killed over the week-end.

Canadian Press reports from Vancouver say crew members of the seine boat Narceda arrived there Sunday "with seven feet and 1,000 pounds of something."

If it isn't a sea monster, the fishermen said, it will do until the real thing comes along.

The thing, which got itself trapped in the vessel's net near Port San Juan, on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, has neither tail nor scales and is covered with a rough elephant-like skin.

Skipper Luis Percich said one possibility is that the "monster" is a tropical fish that got out of its usual haunts by following the warm Japan current northward.

ELDERLY MAN AND WIFE WALK TO DEATH IN SEA

An elderly couple walked to their deaths by drowning in a suicide pact at Oak Bay, on the week-end. A man and wife, visitors from Manitoba, both believed in their 70's, drowned off Cattle Point, just north of Willows Beach, after writing a will and a note.

The couple had left the note, telling of their intention, along with a will, in their car parked above the rocky shore. They had walked down to the beach, emptied their pockets of contents and left them on a log along with a pair of glasses, and walked into the water.

Police found the body of the man at the water's edge and the woman's body off shore.

EASTERN CANADA SWELTERS

3 Die in 115 Forest Fires

TORONTO (CP)—At least 115 fires raged through Northern Ontario's parched timberlands today as sweltering firefighters looked to the skies for signs of heavy rain to help them stop one of the worst outbreaks in years.

Twenty-two blazes are burning unchecked across a wide front and already have caused the deaths of two men and a boy. About 90 men were rescued by canoes and motorboats from an island in the North Bay district Sunday night as a big fire threatened to engulf two tourist camps.

The lands department said thousands of dollars of timber has been left stripped and blackened in the lush forest areas.

BY BRITISH UNITED PRESS

Sweltering eastern Canada looked in vain today for rain and cooler weather as the year's

Possible thundershowers were forecast for the Montreal and Ottawa regions.

It was 95 in Toronto Saturday and 97 Sunday. Montreal's temperatures during the week-end crowded 90.

COOLER IN WEST

It was cooler in the west Sunday, with high of 70 at Vancouver, 69 at Edmonton and 75 at Saskatoon, Regina and Winnipeg. It was 88, however, at Rivers, Man., and Winnipeg's temperature today was expected to reach a high of 85. Showers, with temperatures of between 65 and 75, were forecast for Alberta and Saskatchewan points.

Sunday's temperatures in the Maritimes included 91 at Fredericton, N.B.; 88 at Liverpool, N.S., and 79 at Yarmouth, N.S. Some relief was expected in that area tonight.

M' Uncle Zeke sez until B.C. changes its liquor laws you got to lose your week-ends in Port Angeles.

Mayor Harrison sez City Manager Wyatt at $12,000 a year would "bring back the bacon." I'm trying to figure that at how much the pound.

Thet may not be Caddy but he's sure got the skin for it.
